

DEATH OF HARRIS BRINGS RESOLUTION BY GEORGIA D. A. R.

WASHINGTON, April 21.—The death this week of Senator W. J. Harris, of Georgia, was mourned in a resolution adopted here today by Georgia women attending the National D. A. R. congress.

for the late senator today at Cedar-town, the Georgia delegation to the D. A. R. congress held a special meeting and adopted the following resolution:

"Whereas, death has claimed Hon. William J. Harris, Georgia's beloved and distinguished senior senator in the United States congress and where-as in his years of service to the people of Georgia Senator Harris unfail-ingly exemplified the patriotic ideals and traditions of America;

"Therefore, the D. A. R. of Geor-gia, in committee assembled in Wash-ington, at the forty-first congress of the national society of the Daughters of the American Revolution, resolves that the state has lost a leader in whom she was justly proud; that the hearts of all Georgians are saddened by his passing; that we urge all to emulate his honesty and integrity; that we sorrow with those of his fam-ily who mourn his loss and that a copy of this resolution be sent his be-loved family."

The resolution was signed by Mrs.

Bun Wiley, of Atlanta, state regent; Mrs. Horace M. Holden, of Atlanta; Mrs. J. L. Beeson, Mrs. Julius Tal-madge, of Athens; Miss Virginia Hardin, of Atlanta; Mrs. Julia Mc-Curry, of Athens; Mrs. George Hill-ier, and others.

MEMORIAL CONDUCTED FOR MISS OVERSHINER

Memorial services for Miss Marian Overshiner, former popular member of the senior class of North Avenue Presbyterian school, were held in the school chapel Thursday afternoon. Miss Overshiner was killed in an auto-mobile accident on North Side drive last Friday night when two cars col-lided. Miss Thyra Askew presided over the exercises, during which the classmates of Miss Overshiner recalled her brilliant scholastic record and her personality and character in beautiful eulogy.

ROAD BODY DEPLORES DEATH OF SENATOR

Resolutions on the death of Senator William J. Harris were adopted Thursday by the state highway board of Georgia. The board expressed re-gret that it was unable to close its offices for the day because the day had been set by advertisement for ac-ceptance of bids on highway work.

CLUBMAN IS CLEARED OF ROBBERY CHARGE

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 21.—(AP)—Bank robbery charges against Her-bert C. Seales, Dallas clubman, and Ralph Arnold, filling station opera-tor, crumpled today and the case was dismissed on the recommendation of Assistant Attorney-General William Gerber.

SEVENTEEN BANDITS EXECUTED IN MEXICO

VERA CRUZ, Mexico, April 21.—(AP)—Seventeen bandits who confessed they attacked the town of Paso del Macho recently and attempted to seize a train were executed by a federal firing squad in the cemetery at Huasteca Wednesday. Forty others would be shot if found guilty, it was an-nounced.

Japan Never Will Conquer China, New Orleans Consul Declares Here

There can never be any real peace in China as long as there is a Japanese soldier with a gun on Chinese soil, said Joe Tong Lee, the new Chinese consul at New Orleans, who spent Thursday in Atlanta.

Consul Lee also sees more fighting ahead with Japan over the Manchurian and Shanghai problems and views the present peace moves rather skeptically.

His pride in the success of the Chinese arms in resisting the first advances by the superior Japanese forces outside Shanghai was evident. He expressed the opinion that Japan would never be able to conquer China or keep Manchuria.

"Chinese students are our hope and it is through them, with their intelligent leadership, that we are becoming a nation of solidarity."

"China knows that Japan never can really conquer China. And what is more Japan knows it. Had they really opposed China's troops as China desired in the recent fighting, Japan's troops would have been wiped out. The Japanese troops retreated into the foreign concessions when pressed. And China dared not follow there for fear of antagonizing other powers. Had the Japanese come into the interior of China they would have been obliterated," he declared.

Seeks To Be Let Alone.

Lee expressed the oft-repeated desire of China to be let alone.

"World opinion is a mightier weapon than gun or sword or gas," he said, "and Japan found that out. China had done nothing. China asks only to be let alone and work out her own destiny. And the world opinion which piled up against Japan was a crushing blow, greater even than that delivered by our armies."

"China and her people are together now no matter where they be. Our people in this country have been asked to send back steel helmets, anti-aircraft guns and material such as that instead of cash. And they are replying.

"Chinese in the south sent more than $50,000 in gold to China during the past few months. Now they are doing what they can to organize for the purchase and shipment of helmets and anti-aircraft guns."

Consul Lee has jurisdiction over the Chinese in 11 southern states. He came to New York in 1896 and entered public schools. He was graduated with honors from New York University. He later taught in American schools.

Consul Lee arrived in Atlanta Wednesday night from Birmingham on the inspection tour of southern states, ordered by the Chinese national government to ascertain the economic conditions of all Chinese people living in these states. He had instructions to requisition the Chinese government for return passage money for any individuals desperately in need of aid.

Consul Lee plaidly told that although he had already toured seven of the states, he had found no Chinese needing the help from his government.

According to the consul there are 40 Chinese living in Atlanta. Of these 25 are employed. They earn their livelihoods in twelve laundries, and one restaurant located here. The unemployed Chinese in Atlanta are taken care of by the On Leong Tong Merchants' Association with its headquarters on Houston street.

Of the southern states Texas has the largest Chinese population, having 1,000 living in its bounds. San Antonio alone is the home of 800. Operating laundries, grocery stores, cafes and truck farms are the predominant occupations of Chinese living in this territory. The Chinese government realizing that many of these could not be reached except by personal visits, ordered Joe Tong Lee to carry on an official check-up of all Chinese people living in the south.

Consul Lee left Thursday for Augusta to continue his survey of Chinese living conditions. While in Atlanta he was the guest of Dr. T. Y. Young, an ardent Chinese nationalist.

REFRESHMENTS FOR BRIDGE LUNCHEONS AND DINNERS.

After a long season of entertaining, the usual refreshments served at the card party become monotonous, and the homemaker searches her recipe file for something new and different. Here are some excellent recipes which have been used for the best of bridge parties. Perhaps you will find a few to your liking and will add them to your collection.

It is a good idea to keep a separate section in your recipe file, whether looseleaf book, cook book or card index, for "entertaining" recipes. Thus at a moment's notice, you may plan a complete, tried-out menu and find the recipes without searching all over for them.

Sometimes, instead of a luncheon, the bridge party may take the form of dinner, followed by two or three tables of bridge in the evening. In that event, the meal served must be a complete, tried-out menu and find the recipes without searching all over for them.

How are the recipes for the main courses and other unusual recipes. Be careful to season the vegetables and meats, using the less well-known seasonings such as garlic salt, celery salt, mustard, caper and similar ones.

If the host is considered a good server, and every man should become proficient in this art of the old school, the lamb or tenderloin may be carved and served at the table. If he is not, better do this in the kitchen, and have the meat ready to serve when it is placed in front of him. Some hostesses now prefer to have the whole main course served from the kitchen, on the individual plates, and then have the vegetables and meat passed or served a second time. While convenient, this has not the charm of the table-carved dinner.

Macédoine of Fresh Fruit.
Soak 3-4 tablespoons gelatin in 1-2 cup cold water. Dissolve it in 1 cup boiling water, add 1-2 cups sugar, 1-4 cups canned peach syrup, 1-2 cup fresh orange juice, 2 tablespoons lemon juice and a shake of salt.

Brush the inside of a fancy large mold with olive oil, then coat with a piece of soft tissue. Put it in a pan of ice water, and pour into it just enough of the fruit juice mixture to cover the bottom of pan. When firm, arrange part of the canned peaches, stewed prunes, glazed cherries and blanched Jordan almonds to form a design-garnish. Add enough of the liquid fruit juices to cover fruit and let stand till set. Continue adding fruit and liquid until mold is filled. Chill. Serve in stemmed glasses as a first course.

Creamed Mushrooms on Toast.
One pound Fresh mushrooms, 5 tablespoons butter, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-2 cup cream, 1-2 tablespoons flour, 1-2 cup thin cream.

Clean mushrooms, remove caps, cut both stems and caps in thin slices. Melt butter, add sliced mushrooms and cook 3 minutes. Sprinkle with salt and pepper, dredge with flour and pour the cream over them. Cook five minutes, stirring constantly to prevent lumping. Serve on toast points.

Lobster Cakes with Tartare Sauce.
Two cups of cooked lobster meat, 1-2 teaspoon of salt, a few grains cayenne, few grating nutmeg, 1 teaspoon lemon juice, yolk of one egg, 1 cup thick white sauce, 1 teaspoon finely-chopped parsley.

Mix ingredients in order given, and cool. Shape in form of patties, crumb and fry same as croquettes. Garnish with parsley, serve with Tartare Sauce. Tartare Sauce—Mix together and chill before serving the following ingredients: 1-4 cups mayonnaise, 1 tablespoon capers, 1 tablespoon chopped sweet pickle, 1-2 teaspoon minced parsley, 1 tablespoon of chives, 1 tablespoon pimientos, 1 teaspoon chopped chives.

Cumberland Dressing.
One cup mayonnaise, 1 tablespoon thick cream, 1 tablespoon French dressing, 1 tablespoon Worcestershire, 3 slices chopped, fried bacon, bacon grease.
Mix first four ingredients, and the bacon and little bacon grease when cold. The dressing should be thick enough to hold its shape, if it seems to be too thin, decrease amount of cream added.

Strawberry Tartlets.
Make a crust, and bake in small individual pans. For strawberry filling, use 1 quart freshly-cleaned and hulled berries, slightly mashed and covered with 3-4 cup sugar. Let stand to draw out the juice.

Make a paste of 2 tablespoons of cornstarch and 4 tablespoons cold water. Add to the berry mixture and put all in same saucepan. Cook till thickened. Cool. Just before serving, put the strawberries in the pie crusts and cover with sweetened whipped cream.

Black Walnut Bisque.
Two cups scalded milk, yolks 3 eggs, 1 cup sugar, 2-3 cup chopped walnut meats, 1 cup heavy cream, 3-4 tablespoon vanilla, pinch of salt.

Mix custard of milk, egg yolks, one-third of the sugar and salt. Caramelize the remaining sugar, add nut meats, turn into a slightly-buttered pan. Cool, pound and pass through a puree strainer. Add to custard, cool, then add the cup of heavy cream, per-

Checks From All Over Georgia Swell Total of Victory Fund

Substantial checks for the democratic victory fund are pouring into the Georgia victory campaign offices from all over the state, it was said Thursday. W. Fred Scott, chairman of the Thomas county campaign, sent $110 and expressed belief that the quota of $400 will be raised within the next few weeks. Cedarblow democrats sent a check for $25 through Carlton C. Bunn, county chairman, and promised to send more in May.

A. M. Zellner, of Forsyth, chairman of the Monroe county campaign, sent in the checks of Judge G. Odgen Persons, C. D. Hollis, J. P. Carson, Chapman Grocery Company, E. W. Banks, John T. Stephens and J. A. Pennington. Additional checks have been received from Stephens, Peach, DeKalb, Oglethorpe counties and old Campbell county.

MOVIE HOUSE BLAST IS PROBED BY POLICE

Acting Chief of Detectives T. O. Sturdivant Thursday was leading the investigation into the bombing of the Majestic theater, 819 Bankhead avenue, which was dynamited by unidentified persons shortly before 2 o'clock Thursday morning, causing damage estimated at $4,000 to the movie house and nearby buildings.

The community theater, which was said by J. T. Taylor, manager, to have been the scene of recent acts of sabotage, apparently was blasted by a heavy charge of dynamite. The projecting machine was virtually demolished and considerable other damage was caused.

Jellied Cucumber and Pineapple Salad.
Two tablespoons gelatin, 1 cup ginger ale, 1 cucumber, diced small, 1-4 cup cold water, 1 cup hot pineapple juice, 4 slices canned pineapple, cut. Soak gelatin in cold water, dissolve it in boiling pineapple juice. Add the ginger ale, the diced cucumber and finely-cut pineapple. Drain the latter before adding. Mold in individual molds, turn out on bed of shredded lettuce.

Souffled Potatoes.
Season and mash fresh, hot potatoes. Beat up one egg or two egg whites rather stiff, whip them into the hot potatoes. Pile into a buttered baking dish, brown them in hot oven.

JOE H. REED NAMED CORPORATION HEAD

Joe H. Reed, for many years actively identified with civic work in Atlanta, has been appointed president and general manager of the Automatic Burner Corporation of New England and will move to his new headquarters at Nashua, N. H., at an early date. Mr. Reed is a director of the Community Chest and the Georgia Children's Home and is closely identified with other interests.

Mr. Reed came to Atlanta in 1920 and became engaged in the wholesale rubber tire business where he remained until 1924 when he accepted a position with the Toledo Scale Company. With six weeks he was made local manager and six months later became district sales manager. He resigned from that connection effective May 1 of this year.

Mr. Reed is a past president of the Atlanta Masonic Club, the City Club and the New England Society of Georgia. For several years he has been a Sunday school teacher at Druid Hills Methodist church.

FOREMAN PRIZE EXHIBITS WILL GO ON DISPLAY HERE

Paintings of scenes in and near Atlanta will go on exhibition in the High Museum of Art from 3 to 6 o'clock Sunday afternoon in competition for the annual R. L. Foreman award of $100. The exhibit will continue until May 10.

The award was established by friends of Mr. Foreman to commemorate his services to art and the High Museum. Paintings in the competition are restricted to water colors and oils of street scenes and landscapes in and near Atlanta. The first award last year went to Wendell Jackson for his painting of the Atlanta Terminal station. Judges will be George Dutch, of Peabody College; George Aid, of Tryon, N. C., and Alfred Hutter, of Charleston, S. C.

George Garner, Tenor, Gives Recital Tonight

At 8:30 this evening, George R. Garner, negro tenor, world-famous singer of spirituals, will make his debut to Atlanta, at the city auditorium. He is presenting a well-balanced program of spirituals and classics.

The spirituals offered on his program have been arranged with particular adaptation to Garner's voice and present an interpretation that is truly different from that of the usual spiritual singer. Doors of the auditorium will open at 7:30, and the recital will begin promptly at 8:30. Tickets are available at Cable's until 4 p. m.

SAMARITAN WINNERS IN CONTEST NAMED

First prize of $60 in The Constitution's Good Samaritan Buying Campaign contest for the week ending April 16, was won by the Calvary Methodist church, Mrs. Augustus Byers, chairman.

Western Heights Baptist church, Mrs. F. R. Martin, chairman. Third and fourth prizes of $23 and $12 were won by the senior class of Washington Seminary, Miss Adell Helmer, chairman, and the Order of Rebekah, third district, Mrs. G. H. Hughes, chairman.

Millions of votes were cast by over 40 churches this week to determine the winners. With but three voting periods yet to go the campaign is sure to be felt many months after its close. All contestants and chairmen of organizations are urged to put forth extra efforts until the close as the grand prizes total over $2,500.

been active during the campaign and the interest is increasing with every day and week that passes.

Every section of the city has been affected and the merchants and products advertised on the Good Samaritan page in The Constitution has received more personal mention among contestants and their neighbors than would result in years of ordinary buying. The effect of the campaign is sure to be felt many months after its close. All contestants and chairmen of organizations are urged to put forth extra efforts until the close as the grand prizes total over $2,500.

ATLANTA, GA., APRIL 22, 1932.

A DOUBLE TASK.

Sixty-seven per cent of the automobile accidents which took the lives of more than 33,000 men, women and children during 1930, and injured a million more, was due to improper driving, according to an article by John L. Train, chairman of the board of commissioners of the American Mutual Alliance, in which he discusses the necessity of awakening the public from its apathy over the steadily increasing toll from motor car crashes.

The difficulty of this task is made greater, writes Mr. Train, because "individuals will not do a complete safety program one minute and then proceed to break every rule it establishes the next." He says that the public is behind the wheel of their own cars. They must be made to realize that their child may be next, and that their neighbor's safety is as important as their own.

Legislation and education must go hand in hand in the effort to crack this shell of indifference. Laws alone are not sufficient. The public must be educated in the safest methods of operating an automobile and impressed with the tragic consequences of negligence.

Mr. Train points out that the public is interested from the standpoint of dollars and cents as well as the threat to life and limb, showing that "any reduction in accidents results in a reduction of claims presented, which means that there is a lower loss ratio, which is reflected in lower rates."

He feels that "if John Citizen would realize that he is affected in his pocketbook every time a reckless driver crashes into another car or runs down a pedestrian, strong public opinion would back uniform motor car legislation."

A survey of the automobile accidents during 1930 reveals that 89 per cent of the persons killed were the victims of automobiles in good mechanical condition at the time of the mishap and that in only about one-fifth of the total number of fatal cases did weather conditions play a part. More than 90 per cent of the drivers had more than a year's experience.

The terrific loss in killed and wounded, therefore, is to be charged either to negligence or recklessness.

A complete program of uniform state motor vehicle laws, municipal traffic ordinances and traffic signs, signals and markings has been prepared by the National Conference on Street and Highway Safety after years of intensive study of conditions in every state and most of the large cities of the country. The laws and safety precautions proposed are those which have proven to be effective wherever they have been put into force.

Not only should the general assembly pass a driver's license law at its next session, so that the mentally and physically unfit can be kept from behind the steering wheel, but these suggested laws should be given careful consideration so that any other deficiencies in our laws governing the operation of the automobile can be remedied.

"Public blamed for gyrations in the stock market." And the stock market can be blamed for a lot of gyrations of the public.

PROTECTION FOR THE EAGLE.

Georgia is one of the few states in the Union which does not offer legal protection for the eagle, and the Atlanta Bird Club, through Ray C. Werner, its president, announces that it will sponsor a movement to have a law enacted similar to those in other states.

At the recent session of the New York general assembly legislation was passed extending protection to both the bald and golden eagles and to the osprey, commonly known as the fish-hawk. Indiana, Kansas, Maine, Massachusetts and Nevada already have such legislation.

In all other states, except seven, the eagle receives blanket protection as a non-game bird under the Audubon law. Georgia is one of those seven states, the others being Colorado, Maryland, Missouri, South Carolina, West Virginia and Wyoming.

Dr. T. Gilbert Pearson, president of the National Association of Audubon Societies, points out that the eagle is one of the rarest birds in America and that its protection is a "progressive step in wild-life conservation." As the emblem of our government it is the patriotic duty of the people of every state to see that an end is put to the wanton slaying which is threatening to entirely stamp it out.

Georgia should have a law extending protection not only to the eagle but, as in the case of New York, other birds whose existence is being endangered by unthinking and indifferent hunters.

In starting a movement for such a law the Atlanta Bird Club is rendering a fine service, in which it should have the co-operation not only of bird lovers, but of every citizen of the state.

John Bull may ignore the $171,500,000 he owes the United States, but it is not to be expected that Uncle Sam will follow suit.

SOUND "SMALL" BUSINESS.

The emergence of small business as an increasingly important element in the nation's economic structure is cited as one of the striking features of the unsettled conditions during the past two years by Dr. Julius Klein, assistant secretary of commerce, in a recent address.

In commenting on the "little fellows who have made a go of it" and the small factories and stores which have been started by men formerly connected with large corporations, this able government official emphasizes "the importance of this development to all of us, for small factories and small stores in the aggregate account for enormous proportions of the goods that we consumers use every day, and their prosperous survival affects, directly or indirectly, the prices of nearly everything that we buy."

Dr. Klein quotes surprising figures on new companies formed by capable business executives, superintendents and workmen who have lost their positions incident to the retrenchment programs since 1929 by the large corporations of the country, pointing out that there were more new companies formed in New York during January of this year than in any month of the depression with the exception of March, 1931.

Using the mechanic as an illustration of those who have lost their jobs in large factories and have gone into business for themselves as producers of complete articles, Dr. Klein says:

"If the little fellow, with limited capital, wants to do his own manufacturing, he may in some cases find that conditions are very much in his favor in times like these. For one thing there is no difficulty in obtaining cheap raw materials as well as the services of skilled workmen at moderate wages. And then there is the question of power. It was not so long ago that an expensive steam plant was the first essential of even a small factory. Now, as one writer puts it, the little manufacturer 'simply turns on a power line, turns on the switch, and his cost is as he pleases. He can make a start in any old shed or barn. Power companies find here, in an amazing increase in revenue when he all the rules it should be declining. Those new long-distance electric power lines are certainly retarding the distribution of industry—and they are democratizing it as well."

Big business has its place and always will, Dr. Klein feels, but he emphasizes that "one thing this depression has brought home to us is that mere size is not desirable in itself, that bigness should not mean an unnatural, bloated condition in a business any more than in a human being, and that there is as great an opportunity today as there ever has been before for a small concern to prosper and to fill a needed place in our economic structure."

Because the snakes which escaped from a Michigan museum were recaptured through women's screams is no reason for expecting that a new profession for women will develop.

The new German movie star in Hollywood whose English consists of the words "Darling, sweetheart, I love you," might be said to have a good working knowledge of the language.

After that Texas boy who was thought to be kidnapped but had only run away to go fishing had gone through the session in the woodshed he probably decided that kidnapping must be the least of the two evils.

The young bank robber who was convicted four times within 24 hours in the courts of Illinois now no doubt is convinced that the law is also capable of pulling "fast ones."

There's scarcely any market for seats on the stock exchange, according to a news item. And no wonder! Anyone who has business in the stock exchange now would be too nervous to sit down anyway.

Jimmy Walker says a sense of humor is life's fire escape. And there's no gainsaying that Jimmy's sense of humor has kept him from being fired.

THE WORLD'S WINDOW

BY PIERRE VAN PAASSEN

Making the World Smaller.

Our forebears had a most fantastic conception of the world. Except for an occasional book of travels, they obtained their information on such out-of-the-way places as China and India from a certain type of ancient mariner, who, whatever else may be said of him, was not always imbued with a strict regard for truth. I can recall an old sailor telling us youngsters that the "pig-tailed Chinese lived in porcelain towers" and the "Moriaks" were a "fierce" race who gave to American Indians, in the habit of cooking small balls of clay and eating them.

But romance is not information our ancestors received by the bucketful. No doubt it was fine material for daydreams. Today all that is changed. Only the positive and the real, the photographs and itinerant reporters, the most elusive scenes are written about and photographed. In spite of the fact that no white man is allowed to come within miles of the Holy Kaba at Mecca, we have a pretty good idea what the Mohammedan sanctuary looks like.

The living Buddha of Tibet, the Grand Lama of Lhasa, shadow of God on earth, has had his picture taken and a jolly, wrinkled old Mongol, by the looks of him.

Autos race through the Sahara desert. Movies are taken in Bagdad's most mysterious souks. Some people call this the decline of romance. They think it is utterly prosaic. Romance to them is something connected with the ages gone by. But romance is not dead. There is as much romance in an airplane flight to Timbuctoo as there was in the Children's Crusade in the thirteenth century. Only it's easier to cure the thirteenth century romantic and the twentieth prosaic.

The League Of Death.

Japanese authorities are on the trail of a secret organization which calls itself "The League of Death." It is a super-patriotic union composed of young men who take it upon themselves to punish politicians, high military officers, newspaper editors, etc., who, in their estimation, fall short of devotion to Japan. So far, the League of Death has assassinated two prominent Japanese citizens, Baron Takuma Dan, director of one of the most powerful corporations in the far east, and Baron Inouye, another peer of the realm.

One general who from his hospital bed made a statement to the effect that the chauvinist militarists were just as dangerous as the pacifists, was given a thorough beating by the Death bombers, while the promise that if ever he repeated his statement he would be killed.

The league was formed in opposition to the peace movement started by students at the Imperial University. The students had published a manifesto calling upon the government to quit Manchuria and Shanghai and to return to the principles of the League of Nations. Other students considered this action traitorous and scandalous, and they organized a terrorist organization.

All these things are but indications of the unrest in Japan. The war with China, so ardently desired by the militarists, may yet prove to be the beginning of a new era.

Georgia Heroes Of the World War

By Sergeant L. E. Jaekel (All Rights Reserved.)

HUBERT P. TERRELL (army serial No. 1311740), Company 1, 118th Infantry, 30th division, American Expeditionary force, awarded the distinguished service cross for extraordinary heroism in the capture of the enemy near Vaux-Audigny, France, October 12, 1918.

During an advance, when his company came under a withering fire from an enemy machine gun, he asked permission from his platoon commander to attempt the taking of the position. Although under exceedingly heavy fire from this post and from trench mortar shells, Corporal Terrell, with exceptional dash and bravery, attacked the position alone, put the enemy under a withering fire, killed the enemy and wounded a third. This gallant soldier was killed the same day while reorganizing and supporting the weakened platoon of which he was then in charge.

His conspicuous heroism was a great inspiration to all the men of the platoon.

Residence at enlistment, Augusta, Ga. Posthumously awarded, Medal presented to brother, Clarence Terrell.

Declining to discuss the soldier bonus plans of Senator Elmer Thomas, democrat, Oklahoma, and former Senator Robert L. Owen, democrat, Oklahoma, because he had not studied them, Dawes gestured, ironically, with his pipe and said:

"I am not going to give you a half-baked opinion on that bill. That is the trouble with the country now—the half-baked opinions that are being handed out. It is the mixing of politics into these questions that causes a lot of trouble. I prefer to talk about things I know about."

Butterworth, Dawes indicated he has no intention of studying these other bills. When asked by a committee member if he would, he replied: "Oh, hell, don't ask me to do that. I am busy. I've got to work day and night on this reconstruction corporation job."

Defending the work of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, its chairman appealed for the support of democrats and republicans alike. "It was a great accomplishment," he said, "all I plead is for the sake of the country and if we make mistakes wait until return of better times and then, if you want to give us hell individually. But for God's sake keep politics out of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation."

Dawes was joined in his denunciation of the bonus by Professor E. W. Kemmerer, of Princeton, who has served as financial adviser to a dozen of the bills, he said, would ultimately be to drive the United States off the gold standard, and its enactment would be "little less than a national calamity."

U. S. FINANCE BODY LOANS

TOTAL OF $370,437,802

WASHINGTON, April 21.—(UP)—The Reconstruction Finance Corporation has made loans totaling $370,437,802 in the 11 weeks since it began operations on February 2, chairman Charles G. Dawes revealed today in the first detailed corporation report to the house ways and means committee.

Of this amount, Dawes said, $285,450,321 has been distributed to 11 borrowing institutions. A total of $11,384,263 has been repaid. Replying to criticism that his bank-insurance-fair-act had been benefited, Dawes cited figures showing a period of four years.

The Usual Ordeal Is a Slight Pain Multiplied by Imagination

By Robert Quillen

If you have learned to swim, you know that the beginner's chief handicap is lack of faith.

So long as he trusts the water to hold him up he is safe. Nothing else is required of him. He is protected by a beneficent natural law. But when he loses faith and imagination overcomes reason, he begins to sink as Peter did and all of his struggles serve only to make disaster more certain.

The first concern of nature is the preservation of her creatures. Natural law gives to each some slight advantage to provide a margin of safety. The swimmer's body weighs only a trifle less than the water it displaces, but the difference is sufficient to keep him afloat.

Would a consistent nature provide a margin of safety to preserve life and limb? I doubt it. I doubt it because it is so reasonable to suppose that nature intended all life to be more pleasant than unpleasant? And if that is true, isn't it also reasonable to suppose that a natural life is enjoyable, while all that makes life unpleasant results from some violation of nature's plan?

Certainly those who trust life are upheld by it, while those who fear it and struggle against imaginary terrors go down.

Those who live without fear, whether they find life idle contentment or rejoice as a strong man to swim a race, find life as enjoyable and as safe as it is to the deer in the forest.

It is fear that makes life dreadful—unnatural fear, born of imagination. It darkens today with anxiety for the morrow. It shudders in anticipation of dangers that never appear. It worries over troubles and foetish customs that it is not to be feared.

The good and happy life is the life of the realist. They forget the danger that is past and feel no dread of imaginary dangers to come. They trust life and it supports them.

Nothing is important but thinking makes it so. If thinking can create terrors to make life seem dreadful, saner thinking can overcome them and make life serene.

HOLLYWOOD IN PERSON

BY MOLLIE MERRICK.

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., April 21.—If Josef Von Sternberg and Marlene Dietrich hold out on the art strike, which has left them in such a strange position with Paramount executives, some motion picture history may be written.

The strike may prove for all time just how much authority any director—successful though he may be—may maintain in the face of the producer's express disapproval. It may also prove that a director's power is five-pointed wonder she is, because the producer concerned attempts, in every way, and mainly for his own apparent benefit, to make sure that his famous and keep her so.

It is the keeping of the Dietrich fame which has caused the present rumors. For Josef Sternberg is one of those jack-of-all-trades who writes the stories, shoots the picture, does a little light camera-work himself, where La Dietrich is concerned and the bows for the finished product.

Some of the finished product of late has caused some caustic commentary on the part of the critics. In appreciation of the Dietrich talent is true in many respects, but his enthusiasm for certain angles of it is apparent. He is so sure of himself, so sure of his own vision, that he will not let anyone else tell him that his vision is wrong. He is so sure of himself, so sure of his own vision, that he will not let anyone else tell him that his vision is wrong.

When you go to a Hollywood party these days you are apt to be met by a microphone in the hands of the butler as he opens the front door. You speak your greetings to your host and hostess—unconscious of it.

It is kept as a souvenir of the "guest" book which adds nuisance interest to so many gatherings.

Jeannette MacDonald, the pretty girl whose voice and eyes and smile have done so much for her in a brief time in Hollywood, will make "Bittersweet" for Fox, playing the part which Evelyn Laye made famous.

All of us who know "Don" Lanyon to see her come back to Hollywood and make this picture. In the first place she never had a chance with the picture. Artists' venture—sitting somewhere in the discard which miscasting and mechanical troubles may produce. But, failing to have Lanyon, I am sure Jeannette will do a fine job with the role.

DAWES CONDEMNNS BONUS MEASURE AS DANGEROUS

struction Finance Corporation, Dawes said, bank failures have been checked and there is very encouraging figures to prove it.

"We in our positions are realizing that there is a marked change in the attitude of the public. The banks are beginning to make loans."

"Things Are Better." "Anybody who sits down there (the Reconstruction Finance Corporation) and says that the banks are making a damn sight more about what is going on and are in a better position to get a cross-section than anybody sitting in a security peanut in Wall Street."

"We don't need one more dollar in money," he said in referring to the bonus. "We've got $600,000,000 more in circulation than we had in 1929. The trouble is lack of confidence."

"I am not merely commenting on the big fellow, who has a case of jumps every time any thing is said about the money. The picture is the picture of the country and compare them with the picture of the country and compare them with the picture of the country."

"Take a look at the operations in agriculture and the ordinary business of the country and compare them with the picture of the country and compare them with the picture of the country."

"The whole country is watching quotations of a little group of speculators in Wall Street—a peanut in comparison to its proper relations in comparison to its proper relations in comparison to its proper relations."

Declining to discuss the soldier bonus plans of Senator Elmer Thomas, democrat, Oklahoma, and former Senator Robert L. Owen, democrat, Oklahoma, because he had not studied them, Dawes gestured, ironically, with his pipe and said:

"I am not going to give you a half-baked opinion on that bill. That is the trouble with the country now—the half-baked opinions that are being handed out. It is the mixing of politics into these questions that causes a lot of trouble. I prefer to talk about things I know about."

Butterworth, Dawes indicated he has no intention of studying these other bills. When asked by a committee member if he would, he replied: "Oh, hell, don't ask me to do that. I am busy. I've got to work day and night on this reconstruction corporation job."

Defending the work of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, its chairman appealed for the support of democrats and republicans alike. "It was a great accomplishment," he said, "all I plead is for the sake of the country and if we make mistakes wait until return of better times and then, if you want to give us hell individually. But for God's sake keep politics out of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation."

Dawes was joined in his denunciation of the bonus by Professor E. W. Kemmerer, of Princeton, who has served as financial adviser to a dozen of the bills, he said, would ultimately be to drive the United States off the gold standard, and its enactment would be "little less than a national calamity."

U. S. FINANCE BODY LOANS

TOTAL OF $370,437,802

WASHINGTON, April 21.—(UP)—The Reconstruction Finance Corporation has made loans totaling $370,437,802 in the 11 weeks since it began operations on February 2, chairman Charles G. Dawes revealed today in the first detailed corporation report to the house ways and means committee.

Of this amount, Dawes said, $285,450,321 has been distributed to 11 borrowing institutions. A total of $11,384,263 has been repaid. Replying to criticism that his bank-insurance-fair-act had been benefited, Dawes cited figures showing a period of four years.

Health Talks

BY DR. WILLIAM BRADY

ALL THAT WHEEZES IS NOT ASTHMA.

Asthma is—Frankly nobody knows just what it is or why, but anyway the condition is a periodic one, like migraine or epilepsy. While a spell seizes or attack is on, there is little difficulty in seeing what ails the patient. But between spells nothing whatever ails the patient, so far as ordinary observation or a medical examination, or the patient's own sensations can show. That is the characteristic feature which distinguishes asthma, bronchial or spasmodic asthma, as physicians call it, from other diseases in which wheezing or difficult breathing happens to be a prominent symptom. A lot of people assume they have asthma when in fact they have no such thing. Many of these take what purports to be good treatment for asthma when the treatment can't possibly help them even if it is good for asthma. But then, we might say virtually the same thing of numerous other ailments—indeed that is why the most successful nostrums purport to be good for so many different complaints: the manufacturers, kind-hearted souls, want to give the patients plenty of liberty in the matter of their ailments, as long as they all ask for the same medicine. Thus the nostrum makers keep customers' senses numbed without all the fuss and bother of using a lot of different doses for the different complaints.

One reader writes that he has had asthma for 20 years. He was a miner for many years. He still can work outdoors, though he breathes hard and wheezes when he has to walk any distance, and he coughs and coughs and raises much phlegm and has a rattling noise in his throat.

The reader says he hasn't asthma at all, but rather an antraxosis or chronic bronchitis or chronic lung inflammation from the coal dust deposited in his lungs in the years he was employed as a miner.

To the best of our knowledge asthma is a nervous skin to migraine, and as such, I don't know the cure for it, but in many cases a course of calcium lactate, ten grains, three times a day for a period of eight or ten days, seems beneficial.

SENATE WILL SEEK REAL IDENTITIES OF "BEAR RAIDERS"

They understood he had a trading company by that name.

M. C. Brush was also listed with a short account of 10,000 shares in several stocks.

Harry Content, another well-known trader who has been subpoenaed, was recorded with a short interest of 7,000 shares in General Motors, Louis Kaiser & Co., which also has been subpoenaed, was credited with a short account of 15,000 shares.

Two banks were listed in the big accounts. The Hollander bank was charged with 9,075 shares in a number of corporations, and the Travelers' bank had a short account in 16 stocks, including 35,225 in General Motors.

Another large account of 43,825 was listed under the name "Broose Corporation."

On the day, Watson made his charges against the international bankers.

"I have a solemn conviction," he said, "that international bankers, through their brokers, have tried to smash the market and hold up the recovery of American business in order to force cancellation of war debts."

"That's their game and we hope to prove it."

Watson's appearance again drew a "capacity" crowd to the big marble-lined committee room and most of the committee members sat through the cross-examination, which lasted until dusk.

Questioned by William A. Gray, the committee counsel, about "pegging" the market for German reparations, Watson said his firm had bought $20,000,000 of the bonds for the selling syndicate while the securities were being marketed.

"The bonds were floated on July 12, 1930," he said, "at 90 by a syndicate of 1,011 bankers. They continued to sell above the price until the 'price' of the bonds of the syndicate" lifted on July 2, he added.

For a period of 18 to 20 days, Watson testified, all purchasers could have sold their bonds at the purchase price.

"What are they selling for now?" Gray asked.

"Around 35-1/2," Watson said. "They have sold at 25 in spite of the fact that they have at all times paid interest on the bonds."

"Your firm acted for the syndicate in maintaining the price while the syndicate operated?" Gray asked.

"Yes, under orders," Watson replied.

Watson denied the purpose was to establish a fictitious valuation.

It was done so the purchasers could have sold at the purchasing price," he said, "it is a customary method."

"Did you tell the purchasers you were to hold the price up for 18 or 20 days?" Senator Brookhart, republican, Iowa, asked.

Watson explained his firm was not selling the bonds.

Brookhart contended, however, that it was a method of "double-crossing" the whole community.

"We see no double-crossing," Watson retorted.

NEGRO SURRENDERS IN WHITE MAN'S DEATH

NEW ORLEANS, April 21.—(AP)—

The negro who ran amok at the Bonaparte railway, killing a white man and wounding 10 others, walked into the New Orleans police headquarters at 8:30 this morning and surrendered.

He told police that he was the negro wanted for the shooting and that he was tired of dodging and wished to surrender. He blamed a white man for the trouble, saying that the other negro would come to his house in the daytime to see his wife while he was away at work.

Warrant May Cancel Honeymoon for Betty

LOS ANGELES, April 21.—(AP)—

A warrant for arrest came out of the Los Angeles district referee's court Wednesday to disturb the honeymoon of Betty Bronson, "Peter Pan" girl of the films.

She was scheduled to appear for examination as to why she had not paid a $706 judgment awarded a dentist for work last January on the teeth of her brother, Arthur Bronson.

When her name was called it was explained she was on a honeymoon with Ludwig Laubauer, of Beverly Hills.

Judge N. I. Mulville ordered the warrant for her arrest.

HARRIS RETURNED TO GEORGIA SOIL

State and National Leaders Join in Sad Farewell to Senator.

at Rockmart, where Senator Harris spent much time when in the state.

Under an escort of American Legionnaires, the casket was taken from the train to his boyhood home in Rockmart, where it was placed in a rooming house. The body remained at the home until 11 o'clock when it was removed to the First Presbyterian church where it lay in state until 2 o'clock, the hour of the funeral.

Services Follow Last Wish. In an amphitheater the simple services, in keeping with another expressed wish of Senator Harris, were held. Rev. Harry F. Peterson, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, was in charge.

After an opening prayer, a double quartet sang one of the senator's favorite hymns, "Abide With Me." A psalm was read by Rev. B. E. Jones, pastor of the First Baptist church, followed by prayer offered by Rev. T. R. Kendall, pastor of the First Methodist church.

Dr. Ze Barney Phillips, senate chaplain, who also is pastor of the Church of the Epiphany in Washington, read the scripture lesson. A short eulogy from Dr. Luther Rice Christie, pastor of the First Baptist church, followed, a benediction by the pastor in charge, and the singing of "Nearer, My God, to Thee" completed the funeral service.

The Scripture lesson read by Dr. Phillips began with the twentieth verse of the fifth chapter of First Corinthians: "But now is Christ risen from the dead and become the first fruits of them that slept." He read the remainder of the entire chapter, ending with the fifty-eighth verse: "Therefore, my beloved brethren, be ye steadfast, unmovable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, for as much as ye know that your labor is not in vain in the Lord."

In his prayer, the pastor of Cedar-town's First Methodist church, said: "In a time of grief and self-accusation, we thank God that he sealed the heights in a spirit of self-accusation and proved himself faithful to a people who loved and trusted him and for whom he so earnestly labored in his public career."

Pallbearers were W. A. Colquitt, E. S. Ault, C. R. Brumby, Dr. C. W. Peck, Dr. C. E. Wood, James M. Housell, C. C. Bunn and J. G. Brewster.

The double quartet was composed of Dr. J. W. Pickett, W. J. Gilmer, Joe Tate, Emmert Whitfield, Hall Hackney, Jimmie Simpson, Judge E. A. Jevins and Phil D. Brewster. Mrs. George Vance was accompanist for the singers.

Accompanying the body from Washington were Mrs. Harris, her daughter, Miss Julia Harris, the senator's brother, General Peter C. Harris, and Mrs. Harris' sister, Miss Annie Wheeler. Other members of the family, including Dr. Seale Harris, of Birmingham, and Major Hunter Harris, of Athens, both brothers, arrived also this morning.

Members of the congressional delegation, including Senators Robinson and George, who formed the most recent party, were Senator John B. Kendrick, of Wyoming; Park Trammell, of Florida, and the following Georgia members of the house: Charles R. Crisp, Homer C. Parker, Eugene E. Cox, W. C. Wright, Robert Ramspeck, Carlton Mobley, M. C. Taver, Charles H. Brand, John S. Wood, Carl Vinson, W. C. Lanford and W. W. Larsen. Mrs. Walter F. George, John J. McGrain, deputy sergeant at arms of the senate; Frank Mahoney, deputy sergeant at arms of the house, and Byron Smith, the senator's secretary, were also with the party that came from Washington on a special train.

The congressional party schedule called for arrival at Atlanta at 6:55 o'clock Thursday night from Cedar-town and a departure for Washington via the Seaboard Air Line at 7:20 o'clock.

Rain clouds that threatened for a time to effect a second change in the funeral plans did not interfere with the services at the spring but an April shower did interfere with the short ceremonies at the grave. At first the funeral was to be held at the First Presbyterian church, of which the senator was a member, but because of the influx of persons wishing to attend it was changed into the open air.

The funeral train, which left Washington yesterday after President Hoover and other national leaders had attended a state funeral in the senate chamber, made its one stop after days before returning to Washington.

A crowd, carrying flags, stood with bared heads as the train passed. Adjutant General Charles H. Cox, representing Governor Russell, boarded the train at Atlanta along with newspapermen. The governor came by automobile and was accompanied by Lawrence Camp, chairman of the state democratic executive committee, and Colonel W. L. Grayson, of Savannah, chief of the governor's military staff.

Mrs. Harris and her daughter are to remain in Georgia for days before returning to Washington.

Leaders Pay Last Tribute to Senator Harris

History of Fight For Tom Mooney

By the Associated Press.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 21.—Stubbornly fought for 15 years, the battle of Thomas J. Mooney for his freedom has been one of the most drawn-out in America's legal history.

The 1916 Preparedness Day bombing in San Francisco, which killed 30 persons and injured 40 more, precipitated a case which has echoed around the world since then.

A president, several governors, New York's mayor, many a celebrated lawyer, and legal bodies right up to the United States supreme court have been involved.

Labor and radical leaders rushed to Mooney's aid when it was charged he had been "framed" by "big business interests" because of labor union activities.

It was President Wilson whose pleading caused Governor William D. Stephens to commute Mooney's sentence from death to life imprisonment.

It was Mayor James J. Walker, of New York, who rushed across the continent to make the most recent plea, before Governor James Rolph Junior.

In the interim the legal battle was fought in a number of courts. The defense charge that a witness for the prosecution perjured himself by saying he was in San Francisco at the time of the bombing, when he actually was 90 miles away, started one of the many movements in Mooney's behalf.

Another began when a second state witness signed an affidavit repudiating the story he told at the trial.

Three photographs—showing Mooney and his wife on a rooftop, with the hands of a clock in the background, fixing the time—played a big part in the defense attempt to prove the defendant had not been where state witnesses said they had seen him.

Mooney was 34 when he was convicted in 1916. He has been behind bars throughout the long fight.

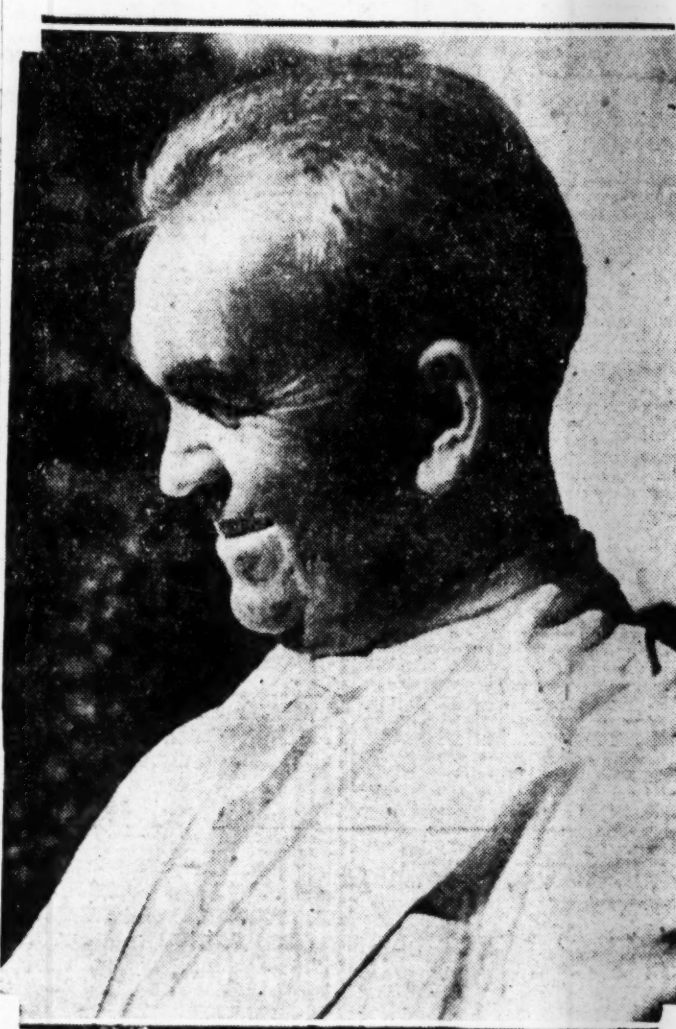

Joseph E. Barlow Dies Of Pneumonia in Cuba

HAVANA, April 21.—(AP)—Joseph E. Barlow, American citizen whose claim of approximately $800,000 against the Cuban government for the seizure of land which he purchased many years ago has been denied repeatedly by courts here, died tonight at the Anglo-American hospital. He was about 70 years old. Cause of death was given as pneumonia.

A crowd, carrying flags, stood with bared heads as the train passed. Adjutant General Charles H. Cox, representing Governor Russell, boarded the train at Atlanta along with newspapermen. The governor came by automobile and was accompanied by Lawrence Camp, chairman of the state democratic executive committee, and Colonel W. L. Grayson, of Savannah, chief of the governor's military staff.

Mrs. Harris and her daughter are to remain in Georgia for days before returning to Washington.

Mooney Denounces Decision After Pardon Plea Denial

TOM MOONEY.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 21.—(AP) Tom Mooney, convicted preparedness parade bomber, laid down his paring knife in the kitchen of San Quentin penitentiary today to learn from Warren James B. Holloman that the plea for pardon, upon which such hopes had been built, had been denied.

Newspapermen gathered in the warden's office later to hear his reaction to the decision condemning him to spend the rest of his life "inside."

In addressing the newspapermen personally, Mooney pointed out prison regulations would not permit him to criticize the decision, but commented: "This makes me the outstanding figure in the world's labor movement and a symbol of the struggle of labor for its rights."

Mrs. Rena Mooney, wife of the prisoner, did not accompany him into the warden's office. The fact he was invited to enter alone, she said after-ward, made her feel the plea for pardon had been denied.

She stood Mooney and put her arms around him as he started back into the prison.

"Don't be downhearted, Tom," she said. "I'll keep on working until we get you out."

To them he spoke briefly, commenting his remarks were circumscribed by his position as a convict. He promised a statement in his name from his defense committee in San Francisco.

Messengers delivered that statement to newspapermen here. It included a terse warning of a new policy in a continuing fight for Mooney's freedom.

"The cards were stacked and the dice were loaded against me," the statement said. "This decision proves the utter impossibility of any militant worker ever securing justice at the hands of capitalist-controlled courts, governors and other politicians."

lawyer and brother of Governor Gifford Pinchot, of Pennsylvania: "Rolph's decision against Mooney is one of the most unjust and groundless decisions in the political history of a generation. The men who are responsible for it know that Mooney is innocent and yet they have framed him up and still is."

Oswald Garrison Villard, editor of The Nation: "It seems to me that Governor Rolph's decision is nothing less than monstrous. It has seemed to me for several years that there could be no question whatever of this man's innocence. I am very much afraid that 'the decision' is marked by the same spirit that sent two other innocent men to their deaths—Sacco and Vanzetti. It will take only a few more cases like this terrible miscarriage of justice, in my opinion, to produce an atmosphere of revolution in America. It cries out to high heaven for redress. It disgraces every American."

Corliss Lamont, professor of philosophy, Columbia University, and son of Thomas W. Lamont, member of the first of J. P. Morgan and Company: "I find it hard to believe. Are you sure the report is true? I cannot believe it."

Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University: "I do not choose to make any statement."

SENATORS ADD PROTESTS. ON ROLPH'S DECISION.

WASHINGTON, April 21.—(UP) Confidence that Tom Mooney is an innocent man was expressed here tonight by Senator Thomas D. Schall, republican, Minnesota, after learning that the state supreme court had denied a pardon.

"I am sorry," Schall said. "I have studied the evidence and am convinced he is an innocent man. There is the slightest doubt about his innocence."

Senator John Blaine, republican, Wisconsin: "It is a great disappointment to those who believe in fair justice that this man should remain in prison. Those who have studied the case thoroughly are convinced of the innocence of Mooney."

Senator Gerald P. Nye, republican, North Dakota: "I had hoped for more from Governor Rolph. After all these years the word that the pardon had been denied is the most disappointing and discouraging."

MENCKEN 'SADDENED' BY CALIFORNIA NEWS.

BALTIMORE, April 21.—(UP)—The refusal of Governor Rolph to grant a pardon to Tom Mooney, "saddened" H. L. Mencken, magazine editor and publicist, he told the United Press today.

"I suppose it would be dangerous," Mencken said, "for any governor of California to pardon Mooney. It is a sad state of affairs for I am sure that any impartial person who has reviewed the evidence in Mooney's case will agree he is innocent."

OPINIONS DIFFER ON ROLPH'S DECISION.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 21.—(AP) Men who played important official roles in connection with the conviction of Tom Mooney for San Francisco's 1916 Preparedness Day bombing, commented here today on Governor Rolph's refusal to grant a pardon.

Franklin A. Griffin, who as superior judge presided at the Mooney trial, said: "I have nothing to say about what the governor has done. My opinion in the Mooney case is, I believe, well known. It is unchanged."

Judge Griffin sentenced Mooney but later, stating he was convinced of his innocence, he had given at the trial, sought to have the judgment set aside.

Charles M. Fickert, the district attorney who prosecuted Mooney, said: "Under the circumstances Governor Rolph could have done nothing else. Fickert is now attorney for the state board of medical examiners."

Duncan Matheson, San Francisco city treasurer, who as captain of detectives in 1916 aided in investigating the case, expressed disappointment at the decision. Matheson previously stated his belief Mooney was wrongly convicted and has urged a pardon.

Police Captain Charles Goff, who took part in the investigation and prosecution, declared: "Mooney has repeatedly failed to show that he was unjustly convicted. He has had four attempts before the supreme court and there is nothing, in the opinion of any of us, that tend to show but that he was fairly convicted."

Fremont Older, noted San Francisco newspaper editor, who has been an active figure in the campaign for pardons for Mooney and Warren K. Billings, also serving a life sentence for the bombing, declared today's decision does not close the matter.

"The case," he said, "is not settled by Governor Rolph's denial of a pardon. It never can be settled until both Mooney and Billings are released."

BILLINGS DENOUNCES DECISION OF GOVERNOR.

FOLSOM PRISON, Cal., April 21.—(AP)—Governor Rolph's decision in the Thomas J. Mooney case brought denunciation today from Warren K. Billings, Folsom prisoner, convicted as Mooney's accomplice in the San Francisco bombing.

"I regret that the governor has not shown greater courage or perspicacity than his predecessor," Billings said. "If Governor Rolph is bent upon following the footsteps of C. C. Young (Rolph's predecessor), he can only expect that road to lead to the same goal."

Almon Pinchot, prominent New York lawyer, said: "The governor has not shown greater courage or perspicacity than his predecessor."

GOVERNOR DENIES MOONEY PARDON

page report to which Rolph subscribed.

That report found that Mooney in 1916 was an advocate of violence against the United States. An earlier trial in Martinez, at which Mooney was acquitted of possessing explosives, figured in the findings. Mooney was freed through a technicality, it was held.

Sullivan accepted as truth the case which Charles J. Fickert used to help convict Mooney 16 years ago.

Hated of U. S. The Sullivan report said Mooney, Alexander Berkman and other radicals were publicly and privately opposed to the Preparedness Day parade. They were ruled by "an incense hatred of the American form of government," it charged.

To terrorize San Francisco and stop the parade, the report continued, Mooney, Billings and others entered into a conspiracy to explode a shrapnel bomb. Billings carried the bomb to Stewart and Market streets, where Mooney and at 1:30 p. m. left hurriedly, the findings said. At 2:05 p. m. the bomb exploded, sending a shower of shrapnel into spectators and marching Spanish-American War veterans, it was charged.

That allowance of 35 minutes between placing the bomb and the explosion offset the famous Mooney alibi—that he was a mile from the scene when the explosion occurred. The witness McDonald had testified he saw Mooney at the scene a few minutes before the blast. Years later he declared he had never seen Mooney in his life until he appeared against him at the trial.

Mooney has not presented any facts in support of his petition which have not heretofore been presented to the courts and to the three preceding governors of the state of California, Judge Sullivan commented.

"Mooney asserts he will accept from the governor naught but an unconditional pardon," Sullivan concluded. "We are satisfied he is guilty and not entitled to the pardon."

"During the period of approximately five months that has intervened since the date of said hearing, Judge Sullivan and I have not only given consideration to the arguments above referred to, but have given studied the entire record of the proceedings and evidence given during the trial of said Thomas J. Mooney, held before the superior court of the state of California . . . which resulted in his conviction of the charge specified in the indictment upon which he was tried, as well as of all the proceedings occurring upon his appeal to the supreme court of the state of California."

"During said period we have also carefully examined, read and studied the records in other criminal cases arising out of the preparedness parade dynamiting outrage, in which 10 human beings were killed and between 40 and 50 injured."

Studied Document. "We have also examined, read and studied all available documents and information and have pursued independent investigations for the purpose of ascertaining every available fact throwing light upon the question as to whether Thomas J. Mooney was justly convicted of the offense charged against him, including as far as obtainable the history of the life of Mooney."

"We have also examined . . . all proceedings occurring before the justices of the supreme court of . . . California, upon the application of Warren K. Billings for a recommendation by them of a pardon which application was referred to said court because of the circumstances that Billings had twice been convicted of the commission of a felony."

"In this connection I believe it proper to state that we approached the hearing of said application and undertook the labor necessarily involved in its consideration with open minds, in a spirit of absolute fairness and without bias or prejudice of any kind against Mooney."

"At my request and with my co-operation, Judge Sullivan has prepared a statement consisting of approximately 125 pages of typewritten matter, which is herewith made a part of this record in which is set forth the principal facts, material to this application, disclosed by our investigations."

"These facts, taken in conjunction with all of the other matters above mentioned given consideration by us have convinced us that Mooney was guilty of the offense charged against him; that he was justly convicted by the jury by whom he was tried; and that the application made on his behalf for the pardon should be denied."

Notes Failure. Rolph pointed out in closing that Mooney's case had been presented in vain to the state supreme court four times, once to the state supreme court of the United States and to three previous California governors.

About 100 persons, including Mrs. Mooney and several other women, crowded into a roped-off area, awaiting the governor. When copies of his announcement had been distributed to the press, Rolph, Judge Sullivan and Governor Fred Balzar, of Nevada, came out.

Rolph stepped behind a large, oval table in the center of the room, cleared his throat, and started to read. Sound of his voice was the pre-arranged signal for publication of his verdict. Telegraph instruments started to click, messenger boys began to hurry, newspaper cameras clicked and newspaper photographers began to flash their light bulbs. The news of Mooney's fate was flashed around the world.

"I have with me on my right Chief Justice Matt L. Sullivan and on my left the governor of Nevada," Rolph said. Then he began to read the text of his decision.

"Mother" Mooney received the news bravely.

"Well," she said, "I can't say it wasn't just what we expected," blinking back her tears. "But I still hold that my boy is innocent, and if Governor Rolph doesn't think so, another governor might."

Sullivan's 125-page report recited the life history of Mooney and Billings, their criminal record; Billings' relations with Mooney prior to the bombing, and their connection with the crime for which they were convicted.

The report quoted many extracts from letters.

The testimony of John McDonald and Frank C. Oxman was referred to at length. As to Oxman's testimony the report echoed the findings of the state supreme court in its decision on

Billings' application for clemency, in saying:

"We do not here pass upon the truth or falsity of Oxman's testimony given at the trial of Mooney, but whether true or false the other evidence in the case suffices to sustain the verdict of 'guilty.'"

As for McDonald's testimony, the report recalled that he testified at four different trials connecting Mooney and Billings with the explosion of which they were convicted and then swore to an affidavit in which he confessed he was guilty of perjury.

The affidavit signed by him and produced at the hearing of Mooney's application for a pardon . . . the report said, "would not be accepted by any court of justice in the civilized world, but would be and should be treated by any self-respecting tribunal as a worthless scrap of paper."

The cost and extent of the propaganda carried on in behalf of the convicted men.

"We have before us a statement of receipts of money received by the Defense League from August 13, 1916, to and including December 31, 1917, of the amount of 10 months and 18 days, the report stated. "During that period of time the amount collected by the league was $108,225. Mooney's version of the amount collected from every section of the world."

"Anarchists, socialists, communists and syndicalists were in the list of donors."

"We have no accounts subsequent to December 31, 1917, but if the money has continued to flow into the International Workers' Defense League since December 31, 1917, at the same rate as it did before that date the league must have collected an amount in excess of one million and a quarter dollars."

"Professor Einstein, the famous scientist, has joined the army of those protesting against the further imprisonment of Mooney and Billings. Unfortunately his good man and great scientist knows as much about Mooney and Billings and the case against each as they know about Einstein's inexplicable theory of relativity."

The report then dealt with the alleged frame-up claimed by Mooney and Billings.

"Ever since the arrest of Mooney and his co-defendants . . . they have persistently claimed they were the victims of a frame-up and conspiracy to which the capitalist interests, the police department and the district attorney's office were parties. . . ."

"The falsity of the charges was admitted by counsel for Billings at the hearing before the justices of the supreme court in the matter of Billings' application for clemency."

"Instead of being a representative of labor Mooney has been for many years an agitator, shunning physical labor. He has been a thorn in the side of labor for many years. He, Alexander Berkman, (identified during the Mooney trial as an anarchist) and his associate anarchists have preached and practiced direct action, force and violence in furtherance of their war against organized society."

"The report stated that 'all of the justices of the supreme court agreed that no frame-up against Mooney or his co-defendant was ever concocted by any officials of San Francisco.'"

"The frame-up story has thus been exploded," the report concluded. "As was the suitcase containing the bomb which exploded on the day of the Preparedness parade."

"Mooney and Billings are not victims of persecution by capital," the report continued.

"Throughout their fight for freedom Mooney and Billings have represented themselves as supported by labor interests. This report took exception with this view, saying:

MYSTERY ACCIDENT VICTIM IDENTIFIED

A man who was killed Saturday by a train at the Armour crossing was identified by relatives Thursday afternoon as Benjamin McKinney Hutchens, 33, of 563 Boulevard, N. E. Mr. Hutchens was discovered dead Saturday afternoon near the tracks, but trainmen had no record of any engine striking a man, it was said.

Coroner Paul Donohoe held an inquest Wednesday afternoon at the Spring Hill chapel of H. M. Patterson & Son. The verdict returned was death as the result of injuries received when struck by a train. Mr. Hutchens had been sought by his mother, Mrs. Kell Potts, and his stepfather, Mr. Potts, since he disappeared from his home Saturday morning, it was said.

Mr. Hutchens was formerly employed as a salesman but had not been working for some time, according to members of the family. In addition to Mr. and Mrs. Potts, he is survived by his sister, Mrs. John M. Donaldson, of New York city, and several aunts. Funeral arrangements are under the direction of H. M. Patterson & Son and will be announced.

SENATE CHOICE STILL IN DOUBT

Gossip and guesses continued to run like wildfire throughout Georgia Thursday as the state eagerly awaited announcement of an appointment by Governor Richard B. Russell Jr. to fill the place of the late Senator William J. Harris, and as members of the state democratic committee's subcommittee on rules prepared to meet here Saturday to amend September 14 primary rules to include nomination of candidates for the two senate seats.

Miss Stella Akin, secretary of the state executive committee, will leave Savannah tonight for Atlanta to attend the meeting. She said Thursday that she does not anticipate any changes in the rules other than addition of the two offices to the list.

One of the senatorial posts is that which was held by Senator Harris, whose unexpired term runs until March 4, 1937. The other vacancy will occur with expiration of the term of Senator Walter F. George next March, his successor to hold office until March 4, 1939. Candidates for senator will be required to file their entrances by noon on June 3.

R. C. Moran, of Americus, announced Thursday that Congressman Crisp has been asked by Muscogee county constituents to offer as a candidate for the senate.

"If Georgia and our country ever knew the day when they needed able, honest, fearless men in congress, it is today," said John Bratton, of Thirteenth, N. E., Thursday in starting a senatorial campaign fund for Mayor James L. Key with a contribution of $5 from five members of the Bratton family.

Governor Russell Thursday had no comment to make on the matter of appointment of a temporary successor to Senator Harris.

Wounded Negro Held.

J. D. Brown, negro, was being held on a charge of suspicion Thursday after he had been arrested by officers investigating the robbery early Thursday morning of a Rogers store on Stonewall street. Brown was found in a nearby house, wounded in the leg. Will Franklin, a negro living in the vicinity, told officers that he saw the robbers enter the store and had fired at three of them with his shotgun. Brown was wounded in the thigh.

Are You Weak, Run Down and Discouraged?

Thor's Vitamin Compound of Yeast, Iron and Copper, the New Scientific Treatment, Will Bring You Health, Strength and Energy in Days, Where Older Methods Require Weeks.

If you are merely dragging through life half sick, run down and discouraged; suffer from indigestion, malnutrition, impoverished blood, sleeplessness, nervousness, bilious attacks and weakness; if your intestinal tract is sluggish, your skin pale and unhealthy-looking, and you feel tired out and irritable; if you get up in the morning with a bad taste in your mouth, cross and gloomy from auto-intoxication, you should go to your druggist at once and get Thor's Vitamin Compound of yeast, iron and copper.

Thor's Vitamin Compound is the latest scientific method to build up and strengthen pale, under-nourished, weakened people. Copper, in proper combination with iron, increases the vital strength-building red corpuscles of the blood; yeast increases strength and tone up the intestinal tract.

Thor's Vitamin Compound of yeast, iron and copper begins its work by promoting an increase in vigorous disease-resisting red corpuscles of the blood, and cleansing the intestinal tract of waste and impurities, thereby enabling the system to throw off poisonous accumulations that destroy health. Next, it promotes a zealous appetite for wholesome, nourishing food that builds firm flesh and tissue. Then, weak, nervous people show a gratifying gain in weight. Indigestion, biliousness, and that exhausted feeling disappear, and the nervous system is strengthened by nature's own method of improved circulation and increased metabolism. A feeling of robust health, strength and confidence replaces the former feeling of weakness, nervousness and discouragement.

This new scientific treatment, Thor's Vitamin Compound of yeast, iron and copper, is benefiting thousands of people right here in this city, and its benefits await you at your nearest druggist. Why not start it now? If you fail to show a gratifying gain in health within one week, your money will be cheerfully refunded. Thor's Vitamin Compound costs but fifty cents everywhere.—(adv.)

G. E. Officials Meet With the Distributors To Discuss Sales Plans, $1,000,000 Drive

Officials of the General Electric Company, the Georgia Power Company and the W. D. Alexander Company, who met here Wednesday and Thursday to discuss sales plans for G. E. refrigerators. Front row, left to right, O. M. Jackson, W. D. Alexander, A. M. Sweeney and J. M. Walker. Standing, Jean Dejen, M. J. Young, B. F. Slye, P. H. Dow, H. O. H. Quinn and K. R. Davis.

General sales plans for spring and summer, and details of the Georgia Power Company's $1,000,000 G. E. refrigerator sales drive which opened Wednesday, were discussed at a meeting of General Electric officials, junior executives and salesmen with the distributors, the W. D. Alexander Company, the Georgia Power Company, the principal utility outlet for the Alexander company.

The meeting opened Wednesday at 380 Peachtree street, and continued through Thursday. Among visiting officials from the G. E. Cleveland plant were the G. E. "troupe" who came here from the west coast, where a series of conventions was held.

The western troupe is composed of H. O. H. Quinn and Harold Hurlitt, of the commercial division; K. R. Davis, sales promotion division; P. H. Dow, merchandising division; C. J. Enderle, central station division, and

A. M. Sweeney, manager of refrigeration production.

Other G. E. officials present from Cleveland are J. M. Walker, central station; M. F. Young, apartment house division, and Frank Slye.

Following the close of the Atlanta meeting a second will be held in Macomb. Both meetings will be under the auspices of the W. D. Alexander Company. Mr. Alexander and J. Dejen, of the merchandising division, are participating in the meetings.

loons away to the kiddies and it is one of the most popular booths at the show. An interesting display there, too. Corn Products have Linit, Mazola, Karo and Kremen on display

Washburn-Crosby Milling Company, with their new biscuit preparation aptly called "Bisquick," has shown its new new product to many women. Welch's Grape Juice serves small samples and there is Welch's Grapefruit too. The Western Oil people have their salad oil and Blue Plate mayonnaise on display.

A few feet away the Savannah Sugar Refining Company give thousands of bags of their sugar to interested people, and on the center have a display showing just how "The Sweetest Sugar Ever Sold" is made. Very instructive.

Stokeley's canned vegetables are near by with samples of a relish on crackers. The young lady in charge insists that you eat two and it's easy to do. Sterchi and their booth equipped with a dining room suite and a Majestic electric refrigerator draws many people.

Flour on display is the well-known White Lily and, as baking powder is necessary to make biscuits, Rumford baking powder is not far away. They will serve you biscuits here that are "just like you get at home," so don't miss this booth. Rogers has a display of a complete store outfit and it looks spic and span with merchandise neatly arrayed on the shelves. The Junior League ladies preside over a Coca-Cola booth and the Regenstien booth as well. Naturally, they draw crowds.

Blue Ribbon Malt makes a good ingredient for doughnuts and good snacks are being presented to interested visitors each day. Their automatic machine turns them out almost as fast as a hungry man can eat. Then there is a De Soto Six on display from Ponce de Leon Motors Company. A beauty, too!

Like grapefruit or orange juice? Just let your wants be known and the attendants at the Dr. P. Phillips booth will assuage your thirst. You can actually taste the vitamins. Tree and sun-ripened, really good. Pillsbury flour is made into fluffy biscuits which are passed out to one and all. And fine they are, too!

Not far away Penick & Ford have Vermont Maid maple syrup. One taste and you think of buckwheat cakes, sausage and Maxwell House coffee. The General Foods booth is large and well attended. Here you find Maxwell House coffee and tea, Calumet baking powder, Jell-O and others of their host of products. Get your cup of coffee here, sweetened with Domino sugar from the American Sugar Refinery and a dash of cream from the Pedigree Dairies. You'll probably get two cups, for it's really good.

How to wash clothes the easy way is shown by Clover Bros. booth, where Rinsol, Lux and Lifebuoy are on display. They give you a demonstration while you wait. Loose-Wiles crackers in another booth attracts crowds. Then there is Massery & Fair and Low-Ayde, local food brokers, with many interesting products on display. These booths are well attended, as is the Orange Crush space, where cooling drinks are served.

The old-fashioned Brunswick stew at the Loeb-Apte booth gets a good play because of the generous samples given. Kellogg Sales Company with their many cereals comes next. More samples and an interesting display and recipe books. The food show is a delight to the hearts of those Atlanta housewives who strive for something new in their daily fare. Recipe books by the thousands are given away, each with a new way to present some food item.

Kraft's creamed old English cheese is a sample given at their booth. There is Kitchen Fresh mayonnaise, too. But a feature of their booth is the famous "Wax Man," who neither laughs or moves a muscle of his face while putting on his show. It is really interesting, so don't miss this feature of the show.

Burke's Famous Foods gives samples of their famous salad dressing and Dunham's coconut. It makes you hungry to see the tempting salads on display here. The Georgia foods booth serves Ro-Lo, the glorified Brunswick stew, and it is good! Electric refrigerators from the Household Appliance Company and the Hopkins Equipment Company, draw attention from many.

Looking Over the Food Show

Tomorrow the Rogers Food Show will be over. But thousands of people have thronged the Palais Peachtree to see for themselves what a real food show is like. And, without a dissenting voice, all have proclaimed it a wonderful treat—both as to its educational value and the good things passed out so generously to visitors. Participants have reported as being completely satisfied with everything; crowds have been large and good-natured—very necessary when it is considered that so many people have filled up and down the aisles looking for something new.

Hearings Next Week On Flanders Protest

WASHINGTON, April 21.—Senator Hubert D. Stephens, of Mississippi, chairman of the judiciary subcommittee appointed to consider the two United States marshal nominations now pending from Georgia, announced today that hearings will be held next week on the appointment of G. P. Flanders, of Swainsboro, marshal of the southern district. No announcement was made as to when hearings will be held on the appointment of Samuel Purvis, marshal of the middle district.

Senator Stephens said a definite date would be announced later, but insisted that he would dispose of the case next week.

Vigorous protests have been filed with the committee against the Flanders appointment and Senator Stephens has declared these to be so "grave" as to demand a full investigation. Charges also are on file against the Purvis nomination.

Pupils Will Exhibit Home-Grown Flowers

Tulips, the products of children's home and school gardens, will go into competition at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the W. E. Slaton school auditorium in the third annual tulip show of the Atlanta school system. Four classes of blossoms will be exhibited, each carrying an award in addition to the grand sweepstakes.

A chrysanthemum show is held each fall and prizes in the tulip show will be chrysanthemum plants presented by Mrs. May Hardin Russell, former supervisor of elementary science in the Atlanta schools.

Of these samples and then have a cup of Canova coffee. Food for a king is right. Best Foods, Inc., give out generous samples and supply recipe books that really are practical and tempting. Nearby Block Candy Company give out squares of their product and the kiddies swarm around their booth.

Verbest is not far away and their cooling brew is popular with thousands. Here is a booth the men—and women!—believe to be one of the most popular at the show. And just so, American Beauty macaroni soup near the entrance with an interesting display and recipe books to give out. Then American Pickles, packing all sorts of them and giving out generous samples.

POWERFUL 'COMEBACK' STAGED BY CHURCHILL

Former Chancellor Pleads for Closer Co-operation Between U. S., England.

LONDON, April 21.—(UP)—Winston Churchill made a triumphant "come back" as a powerful political figure tonight when he stirred the house of commons to resounding cheers by a plea for co-operation between Great Britain and the United States to solve the world economic crisis.

The rotund, hard-hitting Churchill broke a year of silence to get back into the midst of political debate in parliament where his ultra-conservative policies had been overshadowed for months by the sweep of Prime Minister J. Ramsay MacDonald's so-called national regime.

Always direct in his attack, Churchill declared the world crisis was primarily due to the rise in the price of gold and to maldistribution of gold

Rep. Edward M. Beers Dies in Washington

WASHINGTON, April 21.—(AP)—Representative Edward M. Beers, of Pennsylvania, died late today at the Naval hospital of influenza.

Representative Beers had been ill for almost two weeks and only yesterday it was reported that he was recovering from a severe attack of influenza and exhaustion.

Beers was the republican representative of the 18th Pennsylvania district. He was first elected to the 68th congress and had served continuously.

He was a member of the naval pensions committee and the District of Columbia committee and was an influential member of the republican organization in his state.

He is survived by his widow and one son.

E. G. POPE WITHDRAWS FROM COUNCIL RACE

E. G. Pope, who was qualified in the city democratic primary as a council contender from the seventh ward, Thursday filed the first withdrawal of his name.

He notified Dr. Samuel Green, chairman of the democratic executive committee, that he wished to withdraw his name because of business reasons.

His retirement from the primary which will be held May 25 leaves the field open to Councilman William M. Rogers, incumbent, and Mrs. James R. Wakefield.

No one had qualified at a late hour Thursday for the post of alderman from the sixth ward to succeed L. O. Mosley, resigned. Entry lists for this position were opened Wednesday night at a meeting of the committee but will close at 2 o'clock on the afternoon of April 25.

stocks, which are chiefly held in France and the United States.

If the United States and Britain would reach an agreement, he said, "France—in spite of her hoards of gold—would have to ask admission to our councils the next morning."

The former chancellor of the exchequer said his remedy for the present situation was "close and effectual comradeship between this country and the United States." He returned recently from a visit to America.

COURT INVESTIGATION REFUSED BY CARLTON

Florida Governor Declares Grand Jury Request Outside His Jurisdiction.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., April 21.—(AP)—Governor Carlton today sent a telegram to Douglas Green, foreman of the Duval county grand jury advising him "there is nothing within my jurisdiction which warrants action" on the grand jury's request for appointment of outside circuit judge while the jury investigates the Duval circuit court and state attorney's office.

The governor's brief telegram was in reply to the jury's request made here yesterday at a conference attended by Green and four other members of the grand jury.

The conference with the governor followed the grand jury's unsuccessful effort to read a document in Duval circuit court. Green, as foreman, read one sentence but was halted by Circuit Judge Dewitt Gray.

The one sentence told of the jury's desire to investigate the circuit court and the state attorney's office.

STATE TO PROTECT ARLINGTON FUNDS

RICHMOND, Va., April 21.—(AP)—Collins Denny Jr., assistant attorney-general, today was directed to proceed immediately to Arlington county and take charge of the "protection of all state funds involved" in the estimated $400,000 shortage in accounts of three county officers alleged by the state auditor to be public accounts.

The action was taken at a conference called by Governor Pollard and attended by Attorney-General John R. Saunders, Mr. Denny and T. Coleman Andrews, state auditor.

STATE PRISON WARDEN OF GEORGIA PASSES

Captain J. M. Burke Dies at Milledgeville After Long Illness.

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., April 21.—(P)—Captain J. M. Burke, warden of the state prison farm, near this city, died at his home Thursday morning at 10 o'clock following an illness of several weeks.

Captain Burke suffered an apoplectic stroke in January but had recovered sufficiently to assume some of his duties at the farm. On Monday he was stricken again and gradually grew weaker until death came Thursday morning.

Captain Burke had been connected with the state prison for a number of years. He served as superintendent for 15 years and was transferred to the prison commission office about eight years ago. He came back to the prison farm five years ago as warden when the electric chair was installed. He had officiated at all executions since.

Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock from the Milledgeville Methodist church and interment will be in the city cemetery.

The following children survive: Francis Burke, of Waycross; John M. Burke, of Tampa; Albert and Herbert Burke, of Atlanta; Miss Margaret Burke, of Tampa; and Mrs. J. H. Harrison, of Darien, Ga. He is also survived by three sisters and 10 grandchildren.

Captain Burke was a native of Twiggs county and was a prominent farmer of that section until he took up prison work.

PHYSICIAN RELEASED IN STATUTORY CASE

SPRINGFIELD, Ga., April 21.—(P)—Freedom of his own recognition was granted Dr. A. G. Grenoble today when the second trial of the aged physician on a statutory charge was called in Effingham superior court. He was convicted on the charge once, but the supreme court granted him a new trial.

Dr. Grenoble, formerly a resident of Jacksonville, Fla., came to court from jail today on a stretcher. Leon S. Tomlinson, his attorney, was granted an indefinite continuance on the ground of his client's ill health.

REALTY DIRECTORS MEET IN AUGUSTA

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 21.—The quarterly meeting of the directors of the Georgia Real Estate Association was held here today, with delegates from Atlanta, Macon, Columbus, Savannah and other points in attendance.

A. W. Lutz, of Augusta, is president of the Augusta Real Estate board and was host to the visitors.

T. H. Hall, of Macon, is president of the state association and A. S. Harris, of Savannah, is secretary, both of whom attended the meeting.

RICHMOND CANDIDATE, BEATEN, ASKS RECOUNT

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 21.—An aftermath of the Richmond county primary has been recorded here in the appeal of R. H. Burckhalter, defeated candidate for county commissioner, asking for a recount of the votes in his contest against Frank H. Turner, dean of the board and former president of the State Association of County Commissioners.

Mr. Burckhalter by 101 votes, according to the official tabulation made of the primary held April 13, and he was certified as nominee of the party.

In his petition for a recount Mr. Burckhalter alleges 39 votes were given Mr. Turner in the third ward in excess of the correct number and if this should be sustained the latter's majority would be cut down to 62 votes, which would not affect the result unless other discrepancies should develop.

DELEGATES OF A. M. E. IN SESSION AT MACON

MACON, Ga., April 21.—The delegates council of the A. M. E. church elected to represent the eight A. M. E. conferences in Georgia, Bishop W. A. Fountain, A. M. P. D. president, met in a reorganization session at St. Paul A. M. E. church here today.

The following committees and resolutions were adopted: Committee on ways and means, reported by E. O. Powell, Savannah; committee on the A. M. E. church here today.

The following committees and resolutions were adopted: Committee on ways and means, reported by E. O. Powell, Savannah; committee on the A. M. E. church here today.

A resolution endorsing Dr. W. F. Riddle for financial secretary of the church. A resolution endorsing Dr. W. O. P. Sherman for the A. C. E. League department of the church. Dr. D. B. Norris for the Southern Christian Recorder.

Committee on finance reported through Dr. W. H. Harris, treasurer. President David Sims, Allen University, Columbia, S. C.; Dr. E. J. Jackson, of Florida, addressed the council. Dr. I. G. Glass, of Thomasville, was elected state leader of the delegation to the general conference.

Dr. E. M. Johnson, R. G. Dawson, J. L. Butler are candidates for episcopal honor at the coming general conference.

Dr. J. A. Hadley is a candidate for the bishopric for the foreign fields work of the church.

DAMAGES OF $10,000 ASKED FOR INJURIES

ROME, Ga., April 21.—The McReaver Brothers' Furniture Company, P. L. and W. J. McReaver, operators, was named today in damage suits totaling $10,000 filed here today by Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Pritchett as the result of injuries sustained by Mrs. Pritchett two months ago when she was struck by a runaway truck owned by the furniture concern.

Verdict of "Not Guilty" Only Break Brown Got

VALDOSTA, Ga., April 21.—The prosecution of C. C. Brown, charged with selling a crop of melons out paying rent to the landowner, Mrs. A. I. Keel, came to a close in city court yesterday when Judge J. G. Cranford directed a verdict of not guilty.

In directing the verdict the court said "gentlemen of the jury, the evidence shows that Brown produced a crop of melons for M. R. Ousley, who furnished the money. Mr. Ousley got the melons, the bogs broke into the field and got the corn and the sheriff got the cotton on a distress warrant. Brown got nothing but a prosecution, therefore I return a verdict of not guilty."

Miss McKellar Here To Direct Camp Fire Training Institute

Miss Janet McKellar, field secretary of the Camp Fire national organization, who is in the city to direct a training institute for Camp Fire leaders, which has been arranged for the week-end.

A training institute for the leaders of Camp Fire Girls has been arranged for this week-end by the national field staff of that organization. The institute will be held under the direction of Miss Janet McKellar, associate field secretary, assisted by Mrs. Laura V. Lombard, executive secretary of Atlanta council.

"We cannot be too appreciative," says Miss McKellar, "of the time and effort which the Camp Fire Guardians, who are the volunteer leaders of groups of Camp Fire Girls, give to this service. We are anxious for them to have all the help possible from headquarters. We feel that through these week-end institutes we can reach personally a large number of Guardians who would find it impossible to attend the longer training courses. The program has been planned to provide a comprehensive survey of Camp Fire. Through lectures, exhibits and demonstrations the Guardians will be given information regarding organization and suggestions for planning and carrying out a well-balanced program of activities."

"The institute will open with a dinner at the Henry Grady hotel this afternoon at her home at 40 Stovall boulevard and again this evening when the Mount Holyoke Alumnae Association entertains at dinner at the Tavern tea room."

I Suspect You Need Specs

If you squint when you look and wrinkle your brow, as though it were furrowed with Father's Time's plow, and to see things more clearly you patiently try, until your feet appear at the tail of each eye, I SUSPECT YOU NEED SPECS.

If over your paper you drowse when you read, you may think a good nap is all that you need; but I'll bet your poor eyes are printing in a haze, and it's some sort of eyestrain affecting your gaze. I SUSPECT YOU NEED SPECS.

If cards on the table are easily seen, yet Jack in your hand looks the same as a Queen, don't complain of the run of your cards you have had. For it looks very much like your eyesight was bad. I SUSPECT YOU NEED SPECS.

If Grandpa boasts he is still in his prime, but his paper is held at arm's length most the time, and if Grandma even still looks at her best, but declares that her eyesight should have a long rest, I SUSPECT THEY NEED SPECS.

Now, many folks brag of keen sight to a friend, and their claims with the arguments able defend; yet the indistinct print of the press they deplore, and say lamps are no longer as bright as of yore. I SUSPECT THEY NEED SPECS.

Saturday's Garden Tour Benefits Henrietta Eggleston Hospital

Seven picturesque Atlanta gardens will be opened to the public on Saturday, April 23, from 12 until 5 o'clock. The entire proceeds will be used by the woman's auxiliary in their support of the Henrietta Eggleston Memorial hospital, which is located on Forest road, and is exclusively a children's hospital. The tour is sponsored by the woman's auxiliary of Henrietta Eggleston hospital. Gardens to be shown Saturday include those of Mesdames Robert F. Maddox, William H. Kiser, Edward Inman, P. C. McDuffie, Winship Nunnally, G. W. Rowbotham and James S. Floyd.

Mrs. Calvin Prescott is chairman of the entrance gates and has arranged the following committees, who will act as hostesses at each garden. At Mrs. Kiser's garden will be Mesdames William Campbell, Harold Eberole, John K. Ottley Jr. and Julian Robinson. At Mrs. Rowbotham's garden will be Miss Virginia Courts and Mesdames Joseph Cooper Jr., Kenneth Egan and Robert Egan. At Mrs. Floyd's garden will be Mesdames John Candler, Robert Sams, Hugh Inman and Bruce Woodruff. At Mrs. Nunnally's garden will be Mesdames Preston Arkwright Jr., Mary Nelson Reams, Miss Caroline Nicolson and Mrs. Ben Tigner and Miss Caroline Nichols.

A tour of 25 gardens, different from those visited last year, has been arranged. There will be three pilgrimages: the first one on April 23 and the next two on April 30 and May 7. Tickets will be $2 for the series of three, or $1 for a single afternoon, and may be purchased in the gardens also at Caroline's Community shop and Hastings Seed store. Mrs. Frank Holland is president of the auxiliary, and has on her board representatives of various groups of women working in some capacity for the hospital. The general chairman is Mrs. Philip L. Engle, and her committee includes Mesdames Robert Alston, James Goddard, Jesse Draper, Frank Holland, Albert Thornton, Hines Roberts, Calvin Prescott, Henry Troutman, Robert Pegrum, Miss Ellen Newell and Mrs. Alice Green. Mrs. Sam Mangum is Junior League chairman of the tour and Mrs. Calvin Prescott is chairman of the gates.

Culbertson on Contract

A Plan for the Play

BY ELY CULBERTSON, World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

Frequently, in the play of a hand at Contract, the Declarer reaches a fork in the road. He must determine which of two or more plans he will follow in the development of the play. The general rule to govern situations of this kind is to select the plan of play which offers the greater probability of success and also which, if it does not prove to be the end to the goal sought, leaves in reserve some alternative method of play.

Recently, in a rubber game in a New York club, the hand shown below was dealt:

North—Dealer.
South—Vulnerable.

four hearts and four spades, then a squeeze situation can be developed, whereas, if each opponent holds three spades, it will only be necessary to trump two rounds of the suit to establish a place for all the losers in the South hand. The more courage you summon, the sooner that happy day will dawn.

The complete deal was:

♠ A Q J 7 6 5
♥ K 8
♦ K Q 3 2
♣ J 10 4

♠ 10
♥ A 8
♦ K Q 9 8 3
♣ A K 5 4 3

The actual South in this position decided to play the hand on the assumption that the spade finesse would work. The King made and the hand, of course, was defeated 1 trick. He was bitterly criticized by his partner, and I think it is apparent that the criticism was justified.

The correct principle of playing this and other doubtful hands is to select the plan which offers the greatest probability of success and which, if it fails, still permits the adoption of another plan or the amendment of the one that has failed. A finesse either wins or loses, but to play for the drop or the establishment of low cards may still present the alternative of squeezing a trick from one of the defending hands.

TODAY'S POINTER.

Before making a Penalty Double, a player should weigh carefully whether or not the information he gives to the Declarer, by his revelation of strength, may make it possible, by adopting unusual methods of play, to fulfill the contract. This is one of the reasons for the requirement of a 2-trick margin in order to justify a Penalty Double.

TOMORROW'S HAND.

The bidding and play of the hand printed below will be discussed tomorrow:

East—Dealer.
North and South vulnerable.

♠ K 9 6 5 4 3
♥ 10 9
♦ Q J
♣ K J 6

♠ 8 5 7 1 2
♥ 10 9 8

Study the hand, decide how you would bid and play it and then compare the results you obtain with those shown in tomorrow's article.

FRIENDLY COUNSEL

BY CAROLINE CHATFIELD

Problems of general interest submitted by readers will be discussed in this column. Correspondence invited. Your name held in confidence. Write Miss Chatfield, care The Atlanta Constitution.

DEAR MISS CHATFIELD:

For seven long years I have taught school and waited until my fiancé could save enough money for us to get married. I have also saved my money and done my share toward hastening the day. Just as we thought our hopes were near being realized the doctor tells me I have tuberculosis and that I must enter an institution where I can be treated or I will never be well again. We are sick with disappointment, for we had planned to be married at the close of school and combine a honeymoon trip with summer school at a great university. My fiancé, too, is a teacher. He wants me to marry him immediately and then go to the hospital. But I am not satisfied to do that. He would then feel responsible for the financial arrangements in connection with my illness. I can't bear to impose such a burden on a brand-new husband. We have decided to abide by what you say is the thing to do.

ANSWER:

"Hope deferred maketh the heart sick," wrote the great poet David. And none know the deep truth of this like a pair of young people looking forward to their marriage and instead finding themselves delayed in the realization of it. Dr. Koch, whose great discovery has recently been celebrated by the scientists of the world, tuberculosis is not an incurable disease. Taken in time, and treated scientifically, it is possible to arrest it, even to cure it.

I suggest that you read an article in the April Atlantic Monthly captioned "Like Tuberculosis." It is written by an ex-school teacher, who did not discover her trouble in its incipency. While it is not a cheerful article it breathes a spirit of resignation, the sort of spirit that would aid one in getting well. There is a humorous comment on her experiences in a hospital, an infinitely pathetic account of her leave-taking from her husband and child, reference to the joyous, rhapsodic reunion with them and finally this paragraph: "Half living there all day? Yes. But every life is burdened with sadness and frustration. My world is singularly serene, free forever from the small irritations, because I have learned how very small they really are. I like tuberculosis."

Every disappointment in life takes something out of us. Every disappointment likewise makes some deposit in our lives that may be turned to good account. Our lives may grow and expand and sun themselves in the happy atmosphere of unclouded blue skies, but when the rains of trouble pour upon us our roots strike deep and we are a firmer grasp on life. So, cheer up young lady. It won't be long until you are able to realize all your dreams and ambitions. The more courage you summon, the sooner that happy day will dawn.

CAROLINE CHATFIELD.

MRS. KEITH MILLER

TO BE RELEASED

MIAMI, Fla., April 21.—(AP)—State Attorney N. Vernon Hawthorne tonight expressed his conviction that Mrs. Jessie M. Keith-Miller, Australian aviatrix, was not implicated in the fatal shooting at her home early today of the man she had planned to marry, Haden Clarke, freelance writer.

Hawthorne said he probably would release the aviatrix from the county jail, where she and her flying partner, Captain W. N. Lancaster, have been held on an investigation charge sometime tomorrow.

"Her story rang true," the state attorney stated. "I am convinced that she is in possession of no knowledge that would assist us in our attempt to learn whether Clarke's death was suicide or murder."

The state attorney questioned Captain Lancaster for a short time tonight after nearly a four-hour quizzing of Mrs. Keith-Miller. He said he might question her again Friday.

The woman flyer was permitted to leave the jail under guard tonight to attend the funeral of the man who had collaborated with her in the writing of her life story until the shooting this morning.

Investigators and notes left by Clarke pointed conclusively to suicide. Mrs. Ida Clyde Clarke, his mother and a University of Miami professor, agreed on this point and said her son had had financial worries. Mrs. Keith-Miller and Lancaster were vehement in their assertion that the young man took his own life.

Letters found by the investigators included one in which he boasted as Clarke and the woman flyer collaborated in the preparation of the life story that he was writing for her.

An answering telegram from Lancaster, sent last Sunday from St. Louis, told the two "kids" he did not want to be a "dog in the manger," wished them every happiness and urged that he defer their marriage until after his return here. He arrived by airplane last night.

One of the two notes found after the shooting was addressed to Mrs. Keith-Miller, who is known as "Chubbie."

It said: "The economic situation is such I can't go through with it. Comfort mother in her sorrow. You have Bill."

New Capitol Picture

"Scandal for Sale"

"Scandal for Sale," a thrilling Universal drama, opens at the Capitol theater today. The picture features a popular cast headed by Rose Hobart, Pat O'Brien, and Charles Bickford. Other important players are Claudia Dell, J. Farrell MacDonald, Berton Churchill, Glenda Farrell and Tully Marshall.

The story of the new novel was written by Emile Gauvreau from his book, "Hot News." The picture was directed by Russell Mack and adapted by Ralph Graves. The picture deals with the professional scandal monger, who will go to any length to secure a "story" for his paper.

The surrounding program features Bert Parks, the golden voiced crooner, accompanied by Jimmy Beers. "Chic" Sale in a riotous comedy and Graham McNamee, the talking reporter for Universal Newsreel, completes the program.

AUSTRALIA PLANS TO AID UNEMPLOYED

MELBOURNE, Australia, April 21.—(AP)—Prime Minister Joseph Lyons Wednesday announced a co-operative plan among the commonwealth and four Australian states for relief of unemployment by flotation of state loans and commonwealth contributions totaling in all $3,000,000 pounds (currently about $11,310,000).

The four states are Queensland, Western Australia, Southern Australia and Tasmania, and their loans will be matched with an equivalent sum from the commonwealth as outlined by a recently organized experts committee.

The commonwealth is setting aside $5,000,000 pounds (currently about $22,000,000), to be expended in New South Wales if the proper safeguard for the federal funds can be made.

He is the whitest man I know, Haden. The other, addressed to Lancaster, said: "Bill! I can't make the grade. Tell Chubbie of our talk. My advice is never leave her again, H."

Terry Hits Fifth Home Run and Ties Record.

BOSTON, April 21.—The Braves celebrated their home opening before 20,000 fans today and defeated the Brooklyn Dodgers, 6 to 3.

Boston piled up a 4-0 lead off Watson Clark in the first three innings and added two more off Heinemann after the Dodgers had driven Tom Zachary from the hill.

It's peculiar, the behavior of the Kentucky Derby money. It's still active on about 25 horses. It won't be still. And I wouldn't be surprised if the 1928 record of 22 starters isn't broken or equaled when they go to the post May 7 at the Downs.

And this plunge in the future books gets me. It was just the other day, with a towel steaming on my face, that the young lady in the barber shop who keeps the nails glistening, came over and asked how about a bet on Liberty Limited and where could it be got down, so to speak.

Now, the last I'd heard of Liberty Limited, he was quoted in the books at 60 to 1 and no takers. Or none to get excited about. And so, speaking freely in tones muffled by the hot towel and the stropping of a razor nearby, your old commentator argued against betting on Liberty Limited and delivered a little lecture about saving one's money and being kind to animals and that sort of thing.

And, B'Gosh if the mail at the office didn't have a little note in it from St. Louis which said that a plunge was on and Liberty Limited had been beaten down from 60 to 1 to 8 to 1.

Now, it is just about time for a long shot to come home in the Derby. Not since Flying Ebony won in 1925 has a really honest-to-goodness long shot come home.

Liberty Limited was a stake winner in 1931. He started in six and won just one; he was second twice and third twice, winning a total of $6,400 for his owners, the Three D Stock Farm. Liberty Limited is a brown colt by Sir Galahad III, out of Dare Say.

But with money still active on 25 horses and the lot of them very doubtful with the exception of Top Flight, the filly and Tick On, her nearest rival, one can't tell.

And Tick On still sticks as the horse they'll have to beat. Somehow a filly just doesn't figure at that distance this early in the spring.

A DISSERTATION ON GREASED PIG.

When Mr. Hugh Smith, the Nashville entrepreneur, staged two greased pig acts to entertain the opening day crowd and to lure them to the baseball benches, he aroused quite considerable comment.

A young lady, or perhaps an old one, wrote in, hiding her name and address behind the signature of "Miss Bored" with "Universal street" as her address, to ask wherein lay the humor in a greased pig act.

There are any number of arguments in favor of it, so it seems. In the first place there is the unemployment. And seven colored boys were paid $2 each to chase and tackle at the greased pig. And then, too, there seem to be some who laughed heartily as the scared porker escaped time after time to run squealing away from his tormentors. I am informed that the greased pig chase is an ancient and honorable custom, coming down to us from our hardy forebears who builded this nation on hard work and crude, slap-stick humor.

Nevertheless, I must admit that the greased pig act afforded me no fun whatever. I kept feeling sorry, desperately sorry, for the pig. He looked so forlorn in his coating of grease and dust. And he squealed so forlornly and plaintively when he was tackled and felt the hand of a captor.

And so when it was over I remonstrated with Mr. Smith, urging him to have no more greased pig escapes because it pained me to see the pig in such desperate straits.

Whereupon Mr. Smith said scornfully, "Just a country boy who can't get over being sorry for a pig." And so I don't know. The crowd laughed. But I was sorry for the pig.

THE NEW YORK OF THE SOUTH.

From time to time certain boosters have spoken of Atlanta as the New York of the south. And not, I think, without reason. There is no other city which can approach it. (Hear! Hear!) Mayor Jimmy Walker, that tactful person, once said so himself.

And this may explain why the Atlanta Crackers are deep in the doldrums so far as baseball is concerned. The New York Giants have been going so badly that the rooters are going out simply to swear at John McGraw and call him names.

This may be one of those sympathetic nerve cases. Physicians tell us that if one nerve aches terribly another is likely to start aching just out of sympathy. The Giants are in seventh place in the National league. And the Crackers are down just as deep. It may be that the Crackers will start to climb as soon as John McGraw gets his club on the National league elevator. It is undoubtedly a sympathetic case.

AN OPPORTUNITY FOR DOGS.

Mr. Byron Dyer, of the State College of Agriculture at Athens, Ga., writes in to say that there will be a dog show held in his city in connection with the twelfth annual Little International Live Stock show, April 28. All breeds are entered, says Mr. Dyer, and more than 40 prizes are already on display. It affords Atlantans an excellent opportunity to display their dogs.

CRACKERS DROP FIFTH IN A ROW AS PELS WIN, 7-2

Barron's Club Is Held Scoreless Until Sixth When 2 Runs Made.

By Bill Keefe.

NEW ORLEANS, La., April 21.—Carlos Moore held the Atlanta Crackers to five scattered hits here today at Pelicans park and the Pelicans won, 7 to 2. But for getting out of balance after delivering a ball to Carlyle in the sixth inning, Moore would have gained a shutout, as Carlyle's blow, an easy grounder, went right through the pitcher's box and knocked in Atlanta's only two runs.

The Pels found Maurice Bream, who worked the first four innings, easy picking, combining hits with Bream's wildness and Cracker errors, and scoring in two tallies. They put two runs over in the first innings without a hit, two errors by Lenny Mock accounting for them. In the fourth, four hits, with a base on balls, accounted for three more. Then, off Wilbur Webb, the locals tallied one run in the sixth and another in the eighth.

MOORE IN FORM.
Moore had a lot of stuff and, well supported by McMahon, Harrington and Sturdy, stood the Crackers on their heads in the first five innings. With one out in the sixth golf-swinged and Barnes walked. A wild pitch moved both up and then Tolson fanned. Carlyle punched a blow through the box and knocked in the two runs.

Moore pitched many balls, but he worked hard in the pinches and kept the Crackers at bay the last three innings. Bruno Haas helped him a lot by making a brilliant catch, a line drive by Rosenthal in the ninth, but most of the time Moore was hurling great ball, his bases on balls being mostly because of his attempt to get the corners that from any wildness.

The Pelicans gave Moore something to work on right off the reel. McMahon, first up, walked and when Mock hit him in the leg, Moore walked and failed to come up with Sturdy's grounder and then threw poorly to third base to catch McMahon, the latter scored.

Galatzin grounded out, Sturdy being held at second and then, when Rose rolled to Mock, Sturdy pulled an old Connie Mack play by scoring all the way from second base. Lind fanned to end the inning.

Though Bream was wild in the third and the Pels loaded the bases with a left fielder, Haas rolled to Mock to end the round.

But in the fourth Harrington led off with a two-bagger to left. He was out when a hard smash by Autry hit him in the leg. Moore walked and McMahon grounded to the pitcher while both runners advanced. Sturdy then brought them in with a fine throw to left field.

ATRY SINGLES.
A single by Autry, an error by the pitcher and a couple of infield outs gave the Birds a run off Wehle in the sixth and in the eighth a base on balls to Autry, a sacrifice bunt by Wehle, Moore, going pitcher, Bream, brought in another run.

Leo Moon will oppose the Crackers in the second game of the series tomorrow afternoon.

They Will Play Here Today

Hal (Red Pepper) Martin, left, diminutive shortstop of the Oglethorpe team, is considered one of the best hitters and fielders in the Dixie college league, and Johnny Ferguson, holding the bat in bunting position, is a crack Tech outfielder. It was Ferguson who singled in the eighth inning to spoil Charley Mitchell's no-hit game against the Jackets. The two stars will be seen in action at Ponce de Leon park today as Oglethorpe and Tech battle in an important league series.

PONCE DE LEON IS TO BE SCENE OF DIXIE GAME

Dixie Standings

Florida Won. Lost. Pct.
Oglethorpe 2 0 1.000
Auburn 2 2 .500
Tech 2 2 .500
Georgia 4 3 .553

By Jack Troy.

No one would have thought a week ago that the Oglethorpe-Tech series today and tomorrow at Ponce de Leon park would offer a shot at first place in the Dixie league to the winner. Anybody who had advanced such an idea would have been thought a fit subject for the loony hatch.

But that's the situation in one of the dizziest pennant races any college league has ever experienced. Florida launched a six-game road trip, starting today and Saturday at Auburn, and the first-place Gators, unbeaten in their first two starts and idle since, will undoubtedly be hard put to hold the lead.

The results of the games this weekend will be a long step toward determining the chances of perhaps four teams to continue in the pennant fight. Georgia has an open date this weekend.

HIGH INTEREST.
Although interest of the league as a whole centers on the clash of the Gators and the Tigers at the Plains, since the champions last year are meeting the present leaders, local interest is focused on the Ponce de Leon battle at Ponce de Leon, ballfield of the Crackers.

Admission will be 50 cents and holders of season tickets can use them to get through the turnstiles. Today's game will start promptly at 3 o'clock.

Oglethorpe and Tech divided the other series at Rose Bowl. The Pelicans, with Mitchell hurling one-hit ball, won the first, 8 to 0, while Tech came back in the second to win, 5 to 3. One of the biggest features of that series was the attendance at both games and the enthusiasm manifested. The Gators hand was there and the old college baseball atmosphere prevailed, just as it will prevail today.

MITCHELL.
Tall Charley Mitchell is expected to open the series with a no-hit game and his opponent probably will be Leon Mitchum, his foe on the other occasion.

The surprising strength of the Jackets this season is the talk of the league. Although the squad suffered by losses of several star players, Bobby Dodd, making his debut as a Dixie league pitcher, has come back and fashioned a formidable line.

The Jackets knocked Clifford Smith, all-American Auburn pitcher, out of the box. They forced the Tigers to play three games for only an even break in the series. And they have been hitting hard and fielding fast.

PETRELS COME BACK.
And Oglethorpe, after losing both opening games to Florida and breaking even with Tech, has come back with a bang to take both games of the Georgia series at Athens and enter the thick of the pennant fight.

Chet Tolson, Barron stated, had failed to help his club thus far and indicated that he already had strings out for another first season. Tolson looked very bad yesterday, striking out twice when the club needed a hit.

The club isn't hitting and we've got to do something now," the skipper stated over the telephone last night. Barron stated that young Lenny Mock had been looking fairly good at yesterday. This he attributes to the fact that the boy was playing in his home town and was naturally a little nervous.

The Nash deal is the first of a series to help the club and Barron and Root feel that the necessary aid will be forthcoming before the week is out. Root divulged that he had made an earnest effort to get Wally Dashiell, second baseman, from Chattanooga but the purchase price was too steep. He has dropped negotiations for Dashiell.

"We're well satisfied with our pitching, it has been fine; what we need is hitting strength," Barron declared. Tom Nash, who has only been in professional ball two years, comes recommended as a hitter. He batted .351 with Asheville of the South Atlantic in 1930. While his average last year was under .300 it was good enough to get him a big league trial. And that Texas league pitching is pretty tough.

BEJIN GOING.
The Crackers' crying need hasn't been outfielders, but there was a good chance to get Nash from Dallas so he was taken on. If he makes good, one of the present fly chasers is certain to go.

It was revealed that waivers have been asked on Hal Bejin, first baseman who started the season and all Southern league clubs passed him up. Bejin will be sent to Columbus, most likely.

NASH TO PLAY WITH CRACKERS

Catcher and Another First Baseman Also Sought.

By Jimmy Jones.

Tom Nash, outfielder and former University of Georgia All-American end, has been purchased by the Atlanta Crackers from Dan Patch, in an effort to do something about the impotence of the team's batting attack, it was announced by Chick Rios from New Orleans last night.

Nash, who batted .284 in 124 games with San Antonio of the Texas league last year and had 18 doubles, 5 triples and 10 home runs in his extra base record, will join the team today or Saturday but will not be in the lineup before Monday, Red Barron has announced.

The Nash deal is the first of a series to help the club and Barron and Root feel that the necessary aid will be forthcoming before the week is out. Root divulged that he had made an earnest effort to get Wally Dashiell, second baseman, from Chattanooga but the purchase price was too steep. He has dropped negotiations for Dashiell.

"We're well satisfied with our pitching, it has been fine; what we need is hitting strength," Barron declared. Tom Nash, who has only been in professional ball two years, comes recommended as a hitter. He batted .3

Records Expected To Fall in Conference Track Meet Here in May

THREE MARKS ARE LOWERED IN DUAL MEETS

And as Many Others Equalled; Anderson's Toss Endangered.

By the Associated Press.

The Southern conference track and field officials will need their blue pencils to cross out records at the annual carnival here next month if spectacular performances in dual meets this spring mean anything.

A survey of 15 dual conference meets the past month reveals three marks have been bettered and as many equalled. The conference accepts as official only those records made at the championship meet and dual meet figures are not recognized.

OVER IN 14.7. Moreau, of Louisiana State, skinned the 120-yard high hurdles in 14.7 seconds, faster than the 15-second time of Weems Baskin, of Auburn, but he touched two timbers. Decoligny, of Tulane, has done 15.2 and Richey, of Auburn, and Bryan, of Virginia, 15.4.

Heard, of Auburn, far surpassed the discus mark of 136 feet 6 1/4 inches with a throw of 144 feet 2 1/2 inches. Legore, of North Carolina, has twice bettered the javelin mark, hurling it 208 feet 7 inches in a meet with the navy and later 195 feet 3 1/2 inches. Hatchelor, of Georgia, threw it 196 feet 3 inches. The record of 193 feet 8 1/4 inches is held by Anderson, of Georgia.

The century time of 9.8 seconds, made by Hamon, of Georgia Tech, Foster, of V. M. I., and Wisner, of Virginia, was equalled by Stockwell, of Louisiana State, and Owens, of Georgia. However, in other meets, Burnett, of Mississippi, has done the hundred in 9.4 and 9.6 seconds.

EQUALS HAMM'S MARK. Burnett's time of 21.2 seconds—equaling Ed Hamm's record—is the best furlong time but Stockwell traveled the distance in 21.4 seconds. Reigels, of Alabama, tied the 13 foot 3 inch figure of Odell, of Clemson, in the pole vault, but Zimmerman, of Tulane, has done 13 feet 2 inches and probably can go higher if pressed. Newton, of Vanderbilt, high jumped 6 feet 1 inch, more than an inch below the record.

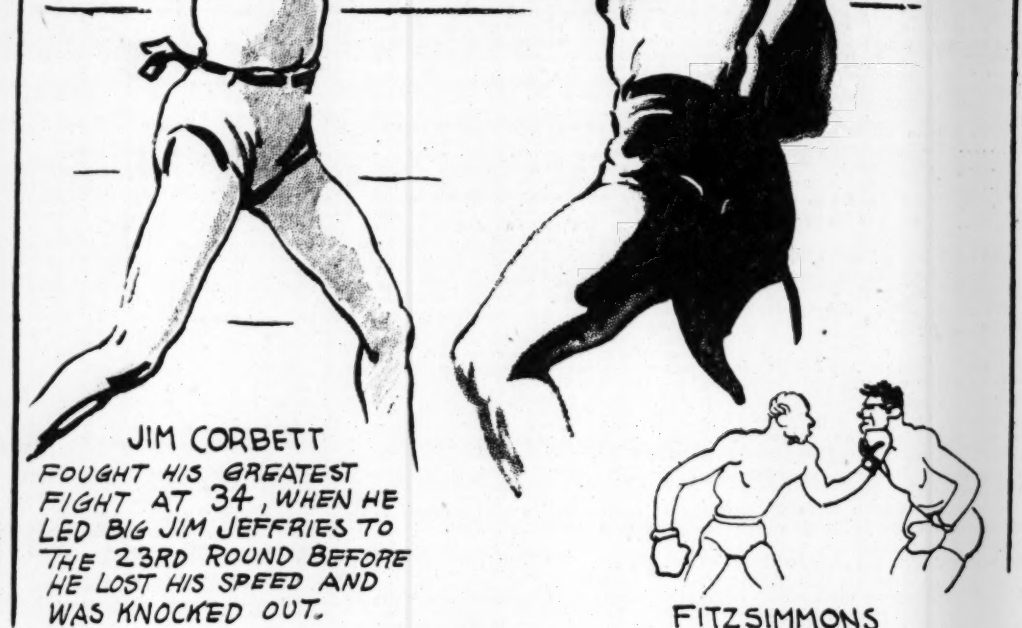

Creditable performances have been reported in the low hurdles, quarter mile, broad jump and mile run. The best marks made in Southern conference dual meets this season follow:

100-Yard Dash—Stockwell, Louisiana State, and Owens, Georgia. Time, 9.8 seconds. (Tied conference record.)
200-Yard Dash—Burnett, Mississippi. Time, 21.2 seconds. (Tied conference record.)
400-Yard Dash—Marland, North Carolina. Time, 50.2 seconds.
800-Yard Dash—Readler, Duke. Time, 2 minutes 2.10 seconds.
1 Mile Run—Lauk, Virginia. Time, 4 minutes 25.2 seconds.
2 Mile Run—Lauk, Virginia. Time, 20 minutes 8 seconds.
120-Yard High Hurdles—Moreau, Louisiana State. Time, 14.7 seconds. (Bettered conference record of 15 seconds flat.)
220-Yard Low Hurdles—Moreau, Louisiana State. Time, 24.3 seconds.
Shot Put—Stuart, V. P. I. Distance, 47 feet 4 1/2 inches. (Bettered conference record of 45 feet 9 1/2 inches.)
Broad Jump—Zimmerman, Tulane. Distance, 24 feet 14 inches.
High Jump—Newton, Vanderbilt. Height, 6 feet 1 inch.
Discus Throw—Heard, Auburn. Distance, 144 feet 2 1/2 inches. (Bettered conference record of 136 feet 6 1/4 inches.)
Javelin Throw—Hatchelor, Georgia. Distance, 196 feet 3 inches. (Bettered conference record of 193 feet 8 1/4 inches.)
Pole Vault—Reigels, Alabama. Height, 13 feet 3 inches. (Tied conference record.)
Mile Relay—Vanderbilt (Evans, Kennedy, Holliday, Woodward). Time, 3 minutes, 53.4 seconds.

Women Golfers Hold Blind Bogey

A one-day blind bogey tournament will be played at 9 o'clock this morning on the Piedmont Park municipal course by Atlanta's women golfers.

The event will be sponsored by the Piedmont Park Women's Golf Association and will be under the direction of Billy Wilson and H. O. Davis, club professionals, assisting the women's tournament committee.

Skeet Club Sates 'Sportsmen's Day'

A "sportsmen's day" will be observed at the regular weekly skeet shoot at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the skeet club traps on Adamsville road.

A special squad has been arranged for all beginners and the shooter who is least to the largest number of new skeet shooters will be given a prize.

N. A. P. S. To Hold Field Day Today

Today has been designated by N. A. P. S. as field day, at which time every pupil enrolled is eligible to take part in the various athletic contests.

When the lower school meets in the gymnasium at 9:30 the kindergarten pupils will start off the program with an exhibition followed by a chariot race of first graders. Next in order will come a pole race, shuttle relay, run and catch relay, and basket ball hurdle relay, by members of the second, third, sixth, seventh and eighth grades respectively. Then, while all grades above the third go out to the field to witness a relay between the Greens and Golds of the fourth and fifth grades, the high school girls will come to the gym for a basket ball and goal shooting contest. The regular events will be last on the program.

LIVINGSTONE, PAL WIN TOURNAMENT

Capital City Pro and Nunnally Cop Pro Amateur.

Willie Livingstone, Capital City pro, and Charlie Nunnally, his amateur partner, with a best ball of 61, won the regular season monthly pro-amateur golf tournament Thursday afternoon on the Capital City Country Club course.

Gene Cook, newly-appointed professional at the James L. Key municipal course, and Dick Voorhis, won second honor with a 66 and Oliver and Bill Healey, Capital City amateurs, won third honor with a 68.

Other leading scores were Gene Dahlbender and Ernie Ball, Albert Jones and Dr. T. E. Tolleson, Jimmy Livingstone and Monica Ford, and Howard Beckett and Charlie Black Jr.

Nunnally, in addition to sharing top place for first prize, won individual prize with a medal round of 69, two strokes under par. It was one of Nunnally's best rounds in recent weeks in his preparation for several major tournaments during the summer months.

THE SPORT LIGHT
By Frankland Rice

The Main Showman.
It is quite doubtful that sport has ever produced a showman up to Babe Ruth's standard. This is not so much a matter of his more than 600 home runs, but his constant response to dramatic situations.

Dempsey, for example, was a great showman in 10 or 12 ring battles. Hagen has been a showman in more than a few great golf matches. The same is true of Billie in tennis. But the Babe, either as a star left-handed pitcher or a home run hitter, has been exploiting his wares for 19 years through nearly 2,000 ball games.

Twice in World Series contests he hit three home runs in one game. Give him a packed arena and he is harder to suppress than a dynamite explosion. He opened the season with two home runs in Philadelphia. Reported weak and somewhat groggy from an attack of flu, he rose up from a sick bed to present a home run to the 58,000 clients who saw the Yankee opening in New York. More than that, more important in one way at least, he moved from first to third on a fairly short passed ball, hitting the dirt with speed and grace. It has been no light assignment for any pair of legs to carry that much bulk around for 19 years at the game and still have a lot of spring and elastic energy left.

Bill Terry's Start.

Memphis Bill Terry, of the Giants, led the National league at bat in 1930. He was practically tied with Hafey for the leadership in 1931. He has now started 1932 with the greatest rush he has ever shown, the outbreak including four home runs in two successive days. Terry is one of the best of all the hitters. He will be a hard man to beat this season when it comes to compiling the final averages.

Georgia Boys Bring Car Here

Buddy Calloway and Wesley Argo, two Georgia boys, arrived in Atlanta yesterday from Miami with their new specially built racing car with which they will enter the 500-mile Indiana speedway race May 30.

Calloway, who is from Macon, is one of the country's best-known dirt track drivers. He and Argo conceived the idea of building their own car and recently completed the job at a cost of $3,500. It will be on exhibition in Atlanta Sunday. The car has a converted aviation motor called a K-6 Curtiss and is capable of making 150 miles per hour.

Calloway will have the honor of being the first Georgia boy to compete in the speedway classic, if he qualifies, which he anticipates no trouble in doing. Argo will be his mechanic.

Claude Hughes And 'Mates' Guests

Dr. Claude Hughes and his "mates" were guests of Dr. M. D. Huff and his golfers Thursday night at the Druid Hills Golf Club following a "flosser pay" tournament during the afternoon. Vezay Rainwater Sr., former city and Georgia amateur champion, set the pace for the winners with a 71, one over par.

Following the dinner members of the Druid Hills Club were guests at a slow motion picture showing of the swings of Bobby Jones, Harry Vardon and Joyce Wethered. George Sargent, professional at the East Lake Country Club, explained in detail the swings as they were shown on the screen.

Harbin, Thompson Wrestle Tonight

Outdoor wrestling will be resumed tonight at Almand park when George Harbin, popular Atlanta grappler, meets Big Boy Thompson, of Macon, in the two-hour main bout. The shows met with favor last summer and a good crowd is expected to see the opening card for this season.

Other matches on the program include a one-hour bout between Sun Almand, Atlanta, and Johnny Park, also of Atlanta; and Jack McAdams, Atlanta, and Ambrose Cole, of Birmingham, in a 30-minute affair.

Smitty To Give Brown Real Battle

In the main event of an all-star boxing card being staged by the East Point American Legion Post No. 51 at the East Point auditorium Monday, April 25, Charlie Brown, popular fighter from East Point, will meet plenty of opposition when he takes on Battling Smitty, Atlanta, in a 10-rounder.

FULTON LOSES TO RUSSELL, 8-7

N. G. I. C. League Leaders Drop First Game. Other Games Today.

By Roy White.

Russell High defeated Fulton, 8 to 7, Thursday afternoon on the East Point diamond to go into a tie with Fulton for leadership of the North Georgia Interscholastic conference. The game was moved up from Friday, due to a track meet being held on the Russell campus.

Eight Fulton errors aided materially in Russell's victory. Russell secured only seven hits off the delivery of Kipnerly, but, coupled with timely miscues, accounted for eight runs, four of which came in the fifth inning.

Roberts hit a home run and triple for Fulton, while Osborne and Clonts hit two-baggers to lead in Russell's win.

THE SCORE.

Fulton 000 124 000-7 7 8
Russell 001 240 100-8 7 5
Kipnerly and Wooten, Osborne and Clonts.

Games this afternoon include Commercial and University at Piedmont park, Decatur and Gainesville at Gainesville, and Marietta and Marietta on the Ivy street campus. Marietta and Marietta are battling for the seventh place in the standing and neither team has won a game.

G. M. A., tied with Tech High for leadership of the Big Six race, plays Boys' High at 3 o'clock this afternoon on the College Park diamond in the feature of the Big Six schedule. The Cadets have won two straight, while Boys' High has lost both starts.

Riverside will journey to Monroe to meet the Aggies in the other game of the Big Six, as the Smithies will be idle today.

There should be plenty of action in the Boys' High-G. M. A. game and it is likely to develop into a hurling duel. Monney and Clark have been going good in the two Cadet games, while both Grayson and Whittington pitched well for Boys' High, but lost as errors paved the way for their downfall.

Emory Golfers Play Bulldogs

Emory University's varsity golf team encounters the Georgia Bulldogs at 1:30 this afternoon in an 18-hole match at the Druid Hills course.

Emory has won two and lost one intercollegiate match this season. Captain Bobby Chambers will lead the Emory linksmen. Harvey Hill, who has been reinstated by Coach H. J. Stegeman, of Georgia; Albert Stubbs and Joe Horacek complete the squad.

THE WONDERLAND OF OZ No. 17

The man who came out of the door was short and round, with a fat face that seemed remarkably good natured. He was clothed all in green and wore green spectacles over his eyes. Bowing before the pumpkinhead, he said: "May I inquire who you are and what is your business?" "My name is Jack Pumpkinhead," returned the other.
"But as to my business, I haven't the least idea what it is."

The Guardian of the Gates looked surprised, and shook his head as if dissatisfied with the reply. "What are you, a man or a pumpkin?" he asked politely. "Both, if you please!" answered
Jack, smiling. "And this wooden horse," questioned the Guardian, "is it alive?" "The horse rolled one knobby eye upward and winked at Jack.
Then it gave a prance and brought one leg down on the Guardian's toes. "Ouch!" cried the man.
"I'm sorry I asked that question."

Based on the stories by L. Frank Baum

He carried a long green gun and had lovely green whiskers that fell to his knees. "Here is a strange gentleman who doesn't know what he wants!" said the Guardian. "What shall we do with him?" "Take him to His Majesty, the Scarecrow!" replied the soldier. "Put the spectacles on him." "Why must I wear spectacles?" asked Jack. "It's the fashion!" was the reply. So the spectacles were put on and the soldier led the little party into the city.

New D. A. R. Head

Mrs. Russell William Magna, of Holyoke, Mass., who is slated to become the next president-general of the Daughters of the American Revolution, is snapped on the speakers' platform in Washington during the organization's 41st continental congress. Mrs. Magna is an unopposed candidate for president.

DOAK RAPS 'PINKS' IN D. A. R. ADDRESS

Says U. S. Citizens Aid Communism; Mrs. R. W. Magna Named Head.

WASHINGTON, April 21.—(AP)—Secretary Doak today scored the red flag "parlor pinks" in an address before the continental congress of the Daughters of the American Revolution. His speech preceded the final report of Mrs. William Sherman Walker, national defense chairman, a militant anti-communist, whose departure from office precipitated the one ripple thus far in the smooth-running session. Mrs. Walker, from the platform, denied rumors she had "expressed preference" for certain candidates for vice president general in an attempt to perpetuate her policies regarding radicals. Secretary Doak told the delegates it would be far easier for him to deal with the alien propagandists "if it were not for the American 'parlor pinks,' organizations of sentimentalists and notoriety seekers." "Every time an alien is arrested," Doak said, "there springs to his defense an American association which holds that in this country any man, alien or native, has the right to advocate destruction of our institutions, a destruction which carries with it, almost of necessity, the assassination of our public officials."

Mrs. Russell William Magna, of Holyoke, Mass., who is slated to become the next president-general of the Daughters of the American Revolution, is snapped on the speakers' platform in Washington during the organization's 41st continental congress. Mrs. Magna is an unopposed candidate for president.

Mrs. Lowell Fletcher Hobart, retiring president general, publicly denied any rift between herself and Mrs. Walker.

Unopposed, the complete slate of Mrs. Russell William Magna, of Holyoke, Mass., was elected to administer the next three years of the organization.

Mrs. Joseph Hayes Acklen, Nashville, and Mrs. Nathaniel Beaman, Norfolk, were two of eight vice presidents general elected.

FATHER ACCUSES SCHOOL TEACHER OF BEATING YOUTH

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 21.—(AP)—A 13-year-old schoolboy who "spoke out of turn in class" appeared at the sheriff's office today nursing a bruised back while his father swung out a warrant charging a teacher who whipped him with assault with a weapon.

The father, R. A. Lowe, coal salesman, said Dexter Nichols, principal of a junior high school at Gintown, in rural Jefferson county, beat his son severely with a paddle because he spoke out of turn.

"The Lowe boy is a 'Smart Alec' and has refused to obey rules of the school," Nichols said. "I have whipped him several times during the year for various offenses."

Nichols admitted he used a paddle on the boy but declined to estimate its size. He denied that he had forced young girls at the school to sit bareheaded in the sun for infraction of school rules.
